

A lift-the-flap book

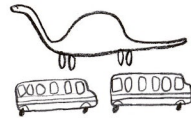

Sam Boughton

Welcome to the age of the dinosaurs!
Dinosaurs lived a long,
LONG time ago.

This is Diplodocus, one of the biggest dinosaurs EVER!

Hello
Mr Diplodocus!

He was as long as two buses!

HERBIVORE
(That means he only ate plants.)

Now meet the Velociraptors.
They were small but they were still fast and fierce!

Their mouths were full of very
SHARP teeth.

CARNIVORE
(That means they only ate meat.)

Velociraptors could run as fast
as a car!

Hello
Mr Velociraptor!

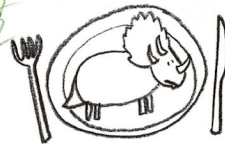

Say hello to the Triceratops family!
They had three BIG horns for fighting scary dinosaurs.

Hello
Mrs Triceratops!

Their head frill
was made of bone.

Watch out! T. rex is looking for his favourite lunch...
Triceratops!

Hello
Mr T. rex!

This is the king of the dinosaurs,
Tyrannosaurus rex.

An adult could grow as BIG as an elephant!

They had hard beaks like a bird.

Meet Parasaurolophus. This hefty plant-eater lived in rivers and swamps.

She had a mouth shaped like a DUCK's!

HERBIVORE

Her skin was hard and pebbly.

Hello Mrs Parasaurolophus!

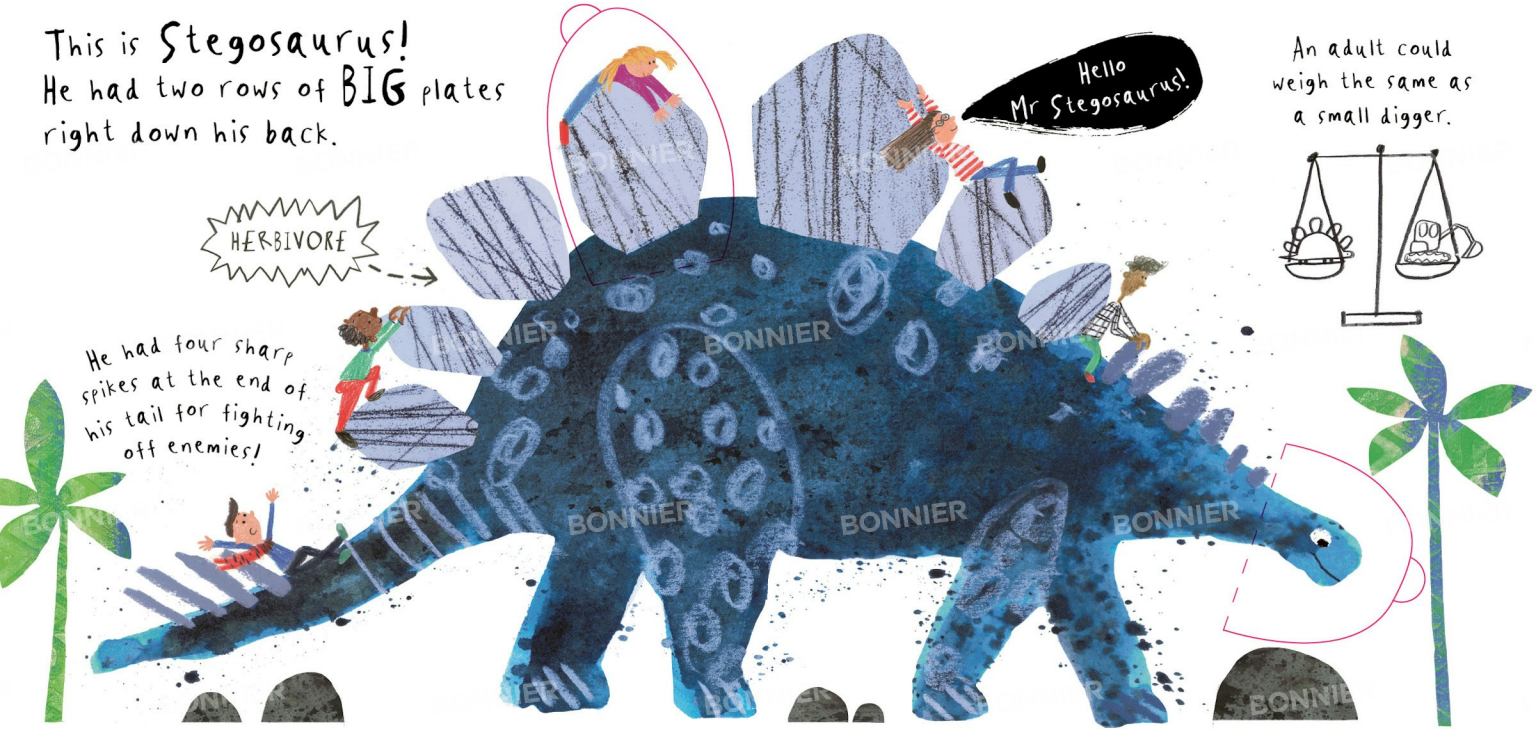

This is Stegosaurus!
He had two rows of BIG plates
right down his back.

HERBIVORE

He had four sharp spikes at the end of his tail for fighting off enemies!

Hello
Mr Stegosaurus!

An adult could weigh the same as a small digger.

Meet the Marine Reptiles.
They lived in the seas at the same time as the dinosaurs.

CARNIVORE

CARNIVORE

Look out Mrs Plesiosaurus!

Hello Mr Kronosaurus!

This here is Kronosaurus!
He was one of the BIGGEST,
toothiest sea creatures EVER!

Marine reptiles couldn't breathe underwater so swam to the surface for air.

This is Plesiosaurus.
She had a VERY long neck like a snake!

Her mouth was full of tiny sharp teeth for eating lots of fish.

This is Ankylosaurus. She was covered in hard armour to keep her safe.

She had a BIG club at the end of her tail!

Hello Mrs Ankylosaurus!

Ankylosaurus had armour all over her body, like a TANK!

HERBIVORE

She walked at about the same speed as a tiny mouse.

And here are
ALL the dinosaurs.

HELLO EVERYBODY!

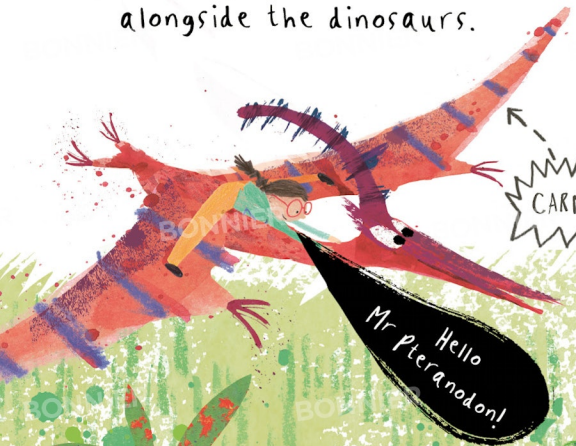

Can you remember
all of their names?

Say hello to the Pteranodons.
They were flying reptiles that lived alongside the dinosaurs.

Pteranodons didn't have feathers - they had leathery skin like a bat instead!
