When Daddy goes to Work

Paul Schofield & Anna Terreros-Martin

Daddy has to go to work,
I'll miss you little one.
Remember to be good today,
Learn lots – and have fun!

I'm off now to the station,
I've got to catch my train.
And even though it's busy,
I think of you again.

The rain beats on my window,
As I read and type and click.
All the while the clock ticks by,
I hope this day goes quick!

At last the clouds are clearing,
And I can feel the sun.
But all I can think about,
Is 'How is my little one?'

I'm over halfway there now,
But there's still a lot to do.
And though the day lumbers on,
I'll soon come home to you.

Finally, the clock strikes five,
And I am finished for today.
Just hold on now little one,
Daddy is on his way!

Dashing to the nursery,
I can't stop for anyone.
Because who will I get to see?
My precious little one.

Did you have a lovely day?
I hope you weren't too blue.
Remember when I'm not here,
I always think of you.

If you are ever lonely,
When we are apart,
Just stay close in knowing that
I love you with all my heart.
