

Jane Foster's

Baby's First Stories

4 stories to read aloud

Written by Lily Murray

9-12
MONTHS

Where Did Bunny Go?

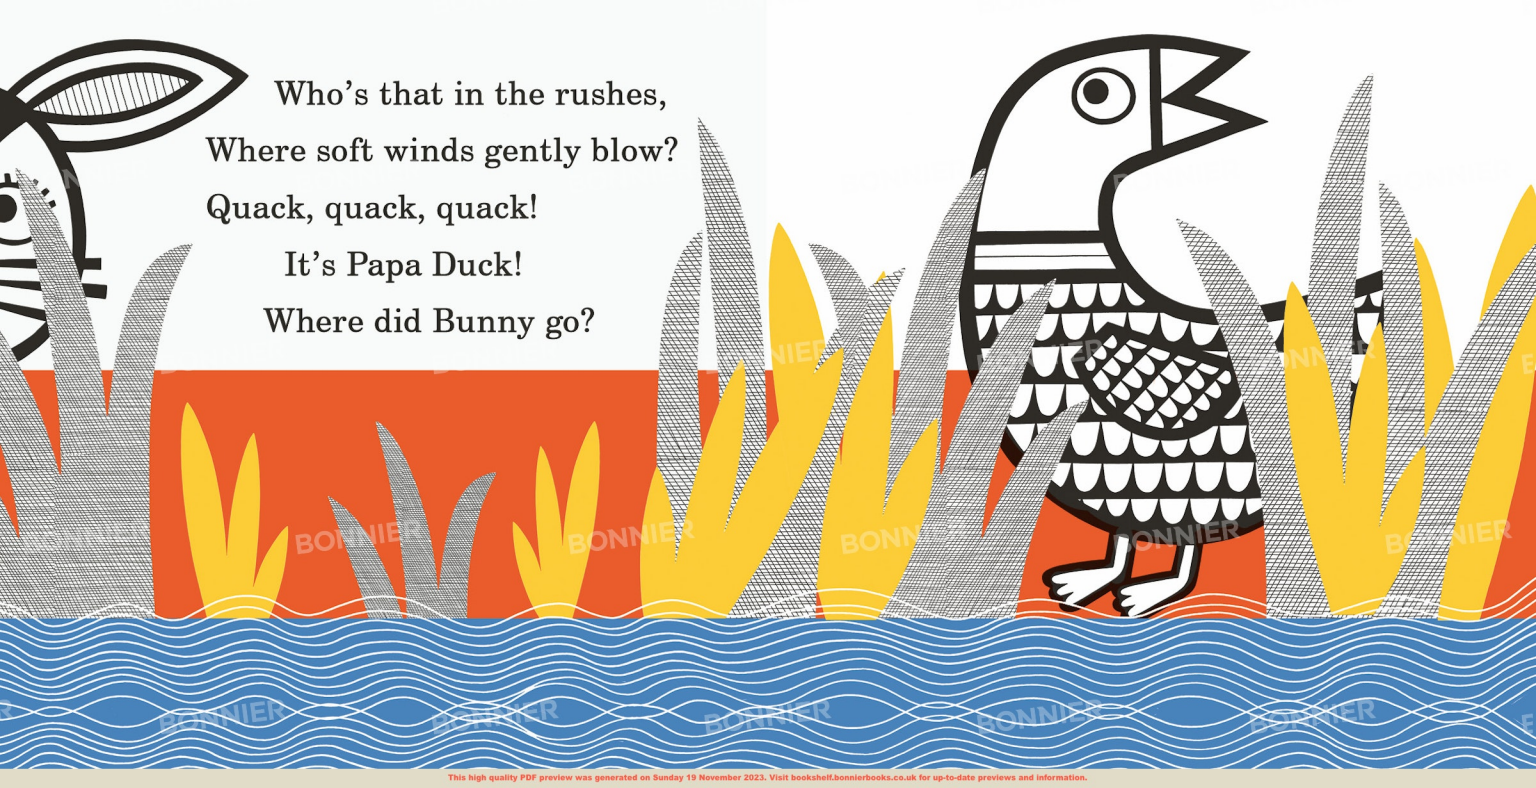

Here is Little Bunny,
Ears wagging to and fro.
Lippity-lippity-hop!
Where did Bunny go?

Who's this coming now,
Creeping, oh so slow?
Plod-plod-plod! It's Tortoise!
Where did Bunny go?

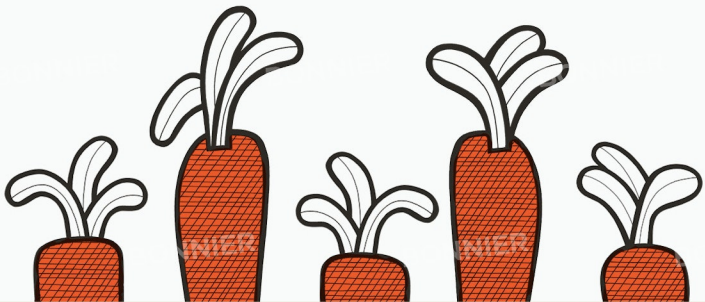

Who's that in the rushes,
Where soft winds gently blow?
Quack, quack, quack!

It's Papa Duck!
Where did Bunny go?

Shall we try the garden,
Among the carrot tops?
HOORAY! It's Little Bunny!
Lippity-lippity . . . flop!

Can You Help Panda?

Can you help this Panda?

He wants to scratch his nose!

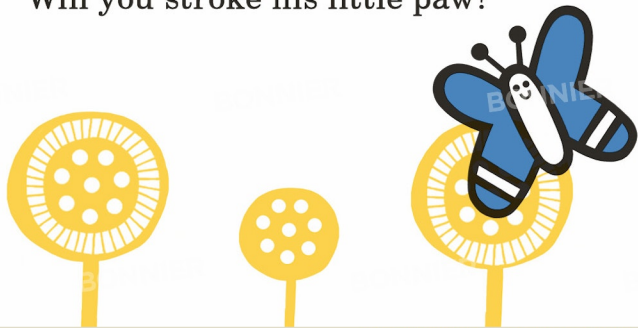

But his paws are holding tight

And it's too far for his toes!

Now Panda needs your help again –
He's feeling rather sore.
Can you make him better?
Will you stroke his little paw?

What shall we do now, Panda?
Maybe something funny . . .
Let's try to make him giggle.
Can you tickle Panda's tummy?

I think Panda's getting tired,
He's climbing into bed.
It's nap-time, Panda. Close your eyes,
We'll kiss your sleepy head.

Elephant's Lost Hat

Little Elephant's lost her hat!

Wherever could it be?

It's not in the grass or the bushes . . .

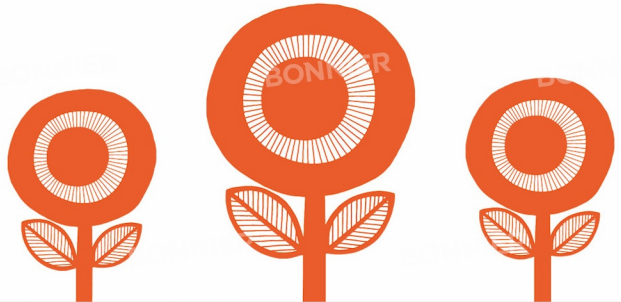

Oh look! It's in the tree!

Little Elephant's lost her shoes!
Where do you think they are?
Look behind you, Little Elephant!
They've not gone very far!

Little Elephant's lost white Mouse!
She's looking high and low.
He's not in the stream or the flowers.
Where could he be? Do you know?

Little Elephant has found white Mouse!

And lots of other friends too . . .

Duck and Bird, Tortoise and Frog

All come out to say . . .

PEEK-A-BOO!

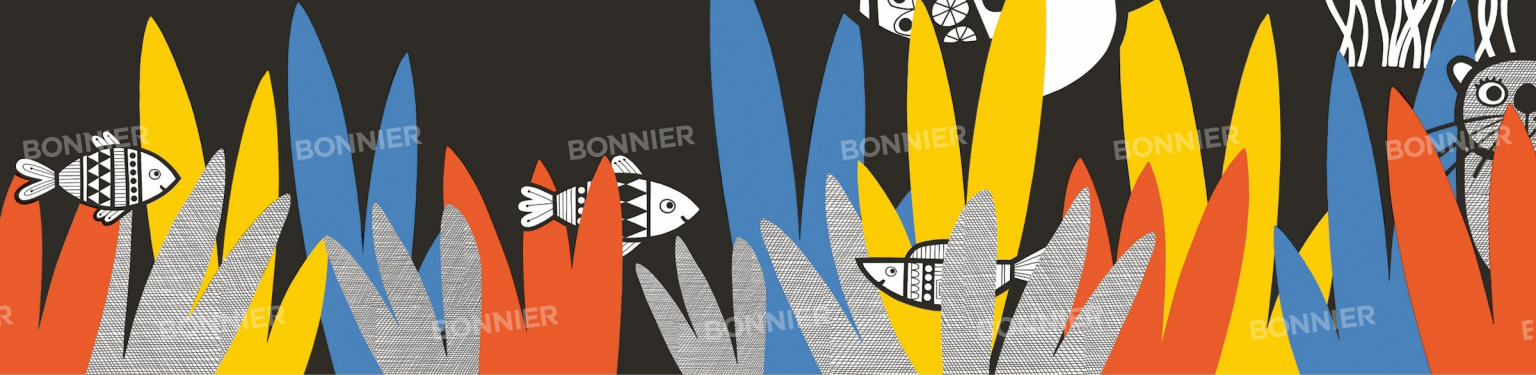

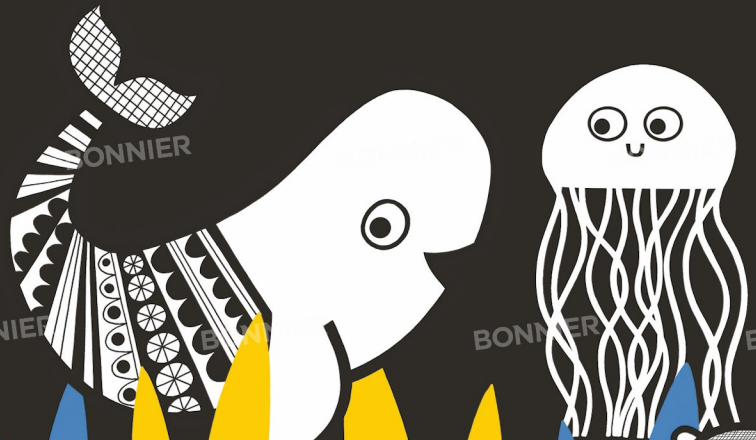

Who's Hiding?

Little Whale loves to swim
Far beneath the waves.
But who do you think is hiding
In the deepest, darkest caves?

... It's Jellyfish!

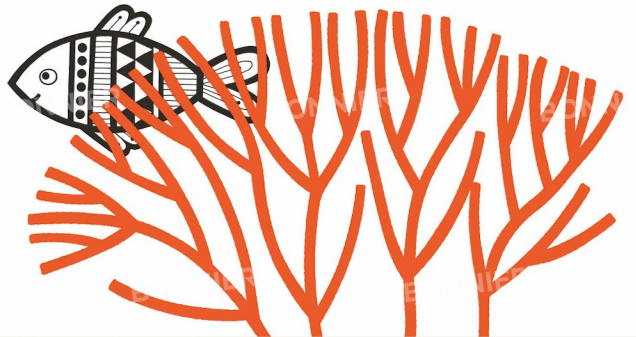

Little Whale loves to swim
Where the sea grass sways.
But who do you think is hiding?
Will they come out and play?

... It's Otter!

Little Whale loves to swim
Near the sparkling shore,
But who do you think is hiding
On the sandy floor?

... It's Octopus!

Little Whale loves to swim ...

But sometimes she hides as well!

Where do you think she might be?

Look closely ... Can you tell?

