

The ultimate 'YES I CAN' for kids who say...

CAN'T DO IT!

Nelly Buchet
Pau Morgan

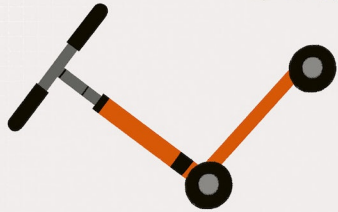

Can't do it.

Just do your best.

Be kind to yourself.

Can't do it.

A young boy with dark skin and curly hair sits on a wooden bench. He has a sad expression. He is wearing a red and white striped shirt, yellow shorts, and blue sneakers. Next to him on the bench is a broken scooter with an orange and white helmet. The background shows a green hill, trees, and a small white bird perched on a branch.

Can't do it.

A young girl with dark skin and curly hair is riding a red and black scooter. She is smiling and wearing a yellow polka-dot sweater, blue pants, and blue sneakers. The background is a green field with a white rabbit, a grey rabbit, a red mushroom, and a grey rock. There are also some small flowers and a tree trunk in the distance.

How about this?

A vibrant, cartoon-style illustration of a park scene. In the foreground, a young boy with dark skin and curly hair is on a red and black scooter. He wears an orange and white striped shirt, yellow shorts, and blue sneakers. He has a worried expression and is looking towards a girl. The girl, also with dark skin and curly hair, is kneeling on the ground. She wears a yellow polka-dot sweater, blue pants, and blue sneakers. She has a friendly expression and is reaching out her hand towards the boy. The background is a lush green park with rolling hills, trees, a wooden bench, a log, mushrooms, and various small plants and flowers. The sky is a clear blue.

Can't do it.

How can
I help?