

I said, "Grandad, I want to do absolutely nothing all day."

Grandad said,
"We've just got a few errands to run . . ."

and you never know, we might have some fun!"

First we went to the glasses shop.

I said, "Why do you need spectacles, Grandad?"

And he said, "Because I have some very important reading to do."

Next we went to the library.

I said, "What do you need from here, Grandad?"
And he said, "We have some very important instructions to find."

Then we went to the tool shop.

I said, "What are we doing here, Grandad?"
And he said, "We have something very important to make."
