

THE LITTLE THINGS

Emma Dodd

It's kisses in the morning
when we wake up with the dawn, getting ready for a new day
with a stretch and a yawn.

It's spending time together.
It's watching clouds float by.

It's saying "sorry" when we're wrong . . .

and "good job" when we try.

It's smiling at a stranger.

It's giving friends a hug.
