DINO EGG HUNT

AN EGG-CELLENT
LIFT-THE-FLAP STORY
Based on the book by JONNY DUDDLE

It was a perfect spring day, and Cretacia was bustling with lots of busy dinos . . .

But four little dinos just couldn't decide on what to do!

Each dino thought they had the best idea, so they started to argue . . .

My idea is definitely the most fun!

No, let's paint the flowers . . .

Let's EAT the yummy flowers!

What about an adventure?

Suddenly, Mazu had an idea! She led the friends into a quiet clearing.

“If you were an egg, where would you be?”
Mazu asked the group.

Err, I’m not an egg so I don’t know!

I know –
IN A NEST!

On their hunt for the third egg,
the dinos arrived at the lake.

“If I was a big dino like Trey, I would hide an egg high up in a tree.”
Rocky thought.

On the beach, they spotted a coconut tree that looked like the PERFECT hiding place
but none of the little dinos could reach!

I know what we can do!

CONGRATULATIONS!
You found all the eggs!

Teamwork makes the dream work!

... a delicious picnic for the BEST
dino egg hunters in Cretacia!
