

Saskia Gwinn

Paula Bowles

Along Came a...

BURP!

FART

A ~~fact~~-packed science story

There I was minding my own business and eating my breakfast when ALL of a sudden with a...

RUMBLE!

POP!

UUUUURK!

Along came a...

...burp!

But where did it come from?
I looked behind the sofa
(because lots of things come from behind sofas).

I looked inside the fridge. (Nope!)

I looked at my pet bug, Burt.

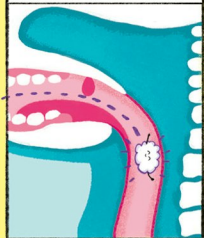

So I asked the burp...

You swallowed me up as air when you were eating a spoonful of cereal.

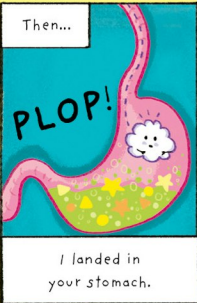

I was PUSHED through a muscle...

SQUEEZED down a stretchy tube...

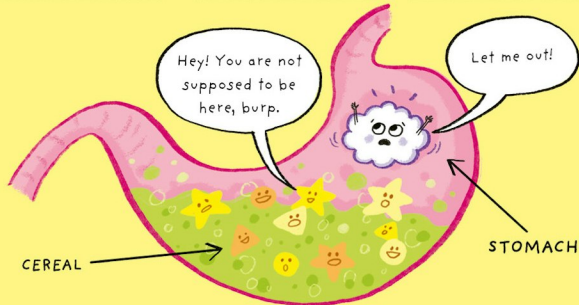

Then...

Hey! You are not supposed to be here, burp.

Let me out!

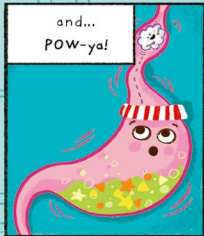

So your tummy stretched...

your muscles squeezed...

and... POW-ya!

I was pushed right back through the stretchy tube where I trembled, and jiggled, and shook all the way up until...

URK!

Out I come as a BURP.

I'm back in the air with all the other gases now. See you later!

STOMACH

And I was going to wave goodbye, when ALL of a sudden along came a...

...poo!

So I sat and I sat. And I thought and I thought until...

How did YOU get here?

I just had to ask,

Why, I got here from your bottom of course!

But first I went on a magnificent adventure...

When a ball of food flopped into your tummy, it was churned into a lumpy, bumpy soup called chyme.

Throw me some juice!

CHYME

The chyme WEAVED, WOUND and WAVED into the SMALL intestine, where it got even MUSHIER.

mush mush mush

Energy from the chyme whooshed off with your blood but the rest of it...

This way please!

was pushed into the LARGE intestine where the water was sucked out and it turned into... who?

Yep: POO!

Guess who else lives here? Brilliant bacteria to break up some of the poo.

Well that bacteria bished and bashed me until ALL of a sudden along came a....