The little Forest School friends have come a very long way now.

"This sign is strange," says Squirrel. "What does it mean?"

"It means that if you go this way, you'll find a special message."

Maybe they've nearly found the treasure!

They creep forwards, looking carefully at the bushes, trees and grass all around them for clues.

"There!" says Fox, pointing excitedly. "It's a..."

"Good work," says Mrs Owl. "Now, who's thirsty?"

Every day at Mrs Owl's Forest School ends the same way.
The animals sit around the campfire, sipping their toasty hot drinks.

Fires can be dangerous!
Only light a fire with a supervising adult.
Never leave it unattended,
and don't get too close.

The sun is going down and it's getting a little chilly.
What a lovely but tiring day!

"It's home time now," says Mrs Owl.
"See you next time you come to Forest School."
