WHERE'S STITCH?

The Beach

It's just another bright day on the beautiful island of Kauai!

The sun is shining, the sand feels warm and cozy and the waves...

Wait, where are the waves? The sea is strangely still!

While David and the other surfers wonder what's going on,
see if you can spot Stitch amid the beach crowd!

Halloween Street Party

It's night time, and the waves are still missing... but Stitch's detective plans will have to wait because it's Halloween, and he's ready for some fun! Stitch just loves to play tricks on Halloween, especially when Nani is not around to tell him off! Can you see him among all of those cool costumes?

The Spaceship Cafeteria

It's lunchtime on the spaceship, and all the aliens rush to the cafeteria for some yummy treats and a well-deserved break. Meanwhile, Stitch is still on his mission to fix the waves, but those space noodles, muffins, and burgers sure look tempting. . . . He must be nearby! Can you see him?

The Galactic Federation

Still no luck finding a solution for the waves . . . but maybe Stitch will discover something useful in the big hall where the Galactic Federation meets! It's a huge room packed with alien delegates of all shapes and sizes. Can you spot Stitch among all those wiggly tentacles and funny eyes?
