Me...

Emma Dodd

The mountains are steep...

and I am small.

The wind is strong... and I am small.

The winter is long... and I am small.

The sky is high...

and I am small.

The stars stretch far...

and I am small.
