Disney Princess: Cinderella's Castle

Meanwhile in the castle, the King was worried. He wanted his son to get married, but the Prince wanted to wait for his one true love. The King decided to have a ball and invite all of the young women in the kingdom.

The invitations were delivered that very day. As their mother read the invitation aloud, Anastasia and Drizella jumped with excitement. Cinderella asked if she could go, too. "You may go," said her stepmother sternly, "if you finish all your chores and find something suitable to wear."

Cinderella ran to her room and found her mother's old dress. She could fit it up for the ball! But Cinderella's stepmother kept giving her more and more work to do around the house. Cinderella wasn't going to have time to finish her dress. When at last her chores were done, Cinderella discovered a wonderful surprise. Her animal friends had been sewing all day. Her mother's dress was now a beautiful gown!

But when Cinderella joined her stepsisters, they ripped the gown to shreds. Sobbing, Cinderella ran into the garden. Now she had no hope of going to the ball! Suddenly the garden filled with light. Cinderella's Fairy Godmother had arrived to make her dreams come true!
