

Let's Go Out Look

Amy
Huntington

City streets, buildings, pavements,
Cars and buses rushing by.
Scattered weeds and jumbled trash.
Look, what can you see?

Bags of paper, bottles, cans,
Bits of plastic, shards of glass.
Friends and neighbours pitching in.
Look, what can you see?

Raking, digging, planting seeds.
Water, sun and time will grow.

Trees and shrubs. They're standing tall.
Look, what can you see?

Little birds are nesting now.

Butterflies and honeybees,
Flitting by as daylight fades.

Look, what can you see?
