BILL

Hungry for adventure, or just plain hungry? Either way, come with me!

HOW TO USE THIS BOOK

1. Ask an adult to cut along the dotted line on the cover.
2. Lay the back cover on a flat surface, unfold the flaps, and press out the marked pieces.
3. Carefully tear out the last page in the book – this is a double-sided background card.
4. Hold the flaps of the back cover upright and slide the background card into the slots at the back.
5. To create the characters, press out all the pieces inside. Slot each one into a stand.
6. To create the 3D car, follow the instructions inside. An adult could help you with the careful folding.
7. There are story cards at the back of the book. Remove these to play through their adventures with the Prehistoric Props.
8. Mix and match props, characters, and backgrounds to act out endless stories of your own, and collect the other books in the series to keep the fun going!

MEET BILL!

Bill's the hungriest brachiosaurus in Cretacia! He wants to grow up as fast as he can to be big and brave, so no snack is safe when he's around. His worrying can make him a bit jumpy, and he's not happy if someone even mentions the G-word (Gigantosaurus), but his constant vigilance for danger keeps his friends safe and sound.

SPECIES: Brachiosaurus
AGE: 7 years old
LIKES: Eating, cooking, sleeping
DISLIKES: Danger, exercise, loud noises
FUN FACT: One day, Bill might grow to be over 20 metres tall!
IN THREE WORDS: Cautious, hungry, curious

GIANT BILL MODEL

Hi there, I'm Bill! Have any snacks around? Press out this GIANT model of me and stand me up. This one's just for fun!

Stand

STRIKE A POSE!

EXCITED

This calls for a feast!

ENERGETIC

Not much gets me running, but coconut season does!

Giganto needs a walnut, and I know just where to get one!

DETERMINED

I can hear something rumbling – and it's not my tummy.

NERVOUS

SUSPICIOUS

That shifty shadow looks just like Patchy...

AWESTRUCK

Giganto's even taller up close!

BILL'S BUBBLE

The safest racer in Cretacia! There's nowhere on land or sea that Bill's Bubble can't explore. Can you help him finish it? Follow the instructions below.

1. Press out the pieces.

2. Face down, gently crease up the marked lines. The labels will all be hidden inside.

3. Match every tab with its slot, using the labels: for example, slide tab 'a' into 'slot a'.

4. Stand Bill's Bubble up, and set off for exploration!

MEET BILL'S BEST FRIENDS

ROCKY

Rocky's the toughest parasaurolophus around, according to him! He can rush into trouble too quickly though, so he needs Bill's eager eye for danger.

MAZU

Mazu the ankylosaurus is always researching Cretacia, writing in her Gigantopedia, and designing inventions. Bill is very happy to help when Mazu wants to write about the foods or the threats.

TINY

This triceratops might be small, but she's bursting with fun. Tiny loves to sing and dance and tell jokes all day long, and she's always an excellent friend to Bill, making him laugh when he gets worried.

You don't scare me!

No problem's too big for science!

Triceratops?
More like tri-SING-A-LOT!

MORE FRIENDS FROM CRETACIA

MARSHALL

Huge, strong and playful, Marshall loves to play with Bill, and he's big enough to protect him too.

HEGAN

Hegan's the fastest pterosaur in the sky
– but not too good on her feet! Helpful, professional, and swift as the wind, she's always ready to fly Bill away from danger and towards his dinner.

RUGO

Rugo's a speedy little rugosodon, and she's as fast at finding food as Bill.

For a tour of the best food spots in Cretacia, we can start at the swamp.

Whatever we're playing, I'm in!

I'll swap a bunch of berries for a coconut?

TOTOR

Totor's a ravenous raptor – but that doesn't mean he's bad! He gets along well with Bill, as long as he behaves himself.

CROR

Cror's a tricky raptor who doesn't trust anyone but Totor. Bill only wants to be around her when he has his friends for protection.

TERMY

The lake's a dangerous place with Terminator lurking under the water! Bill can't wait until he's grown bigger than this plesiosaur and can swim around safely.

That food looks good. Shame if it disappeared.

Scared of me? You should be! But don't tell the big brachios I said that...

I've heard that brachiosaurus is delicious.

GIGANTOSAURUS

Giganto is the biggest, scariest dino in all Cretacia, but he's also one of the hungriest! Bill sure is frightened of him, and runs to hide at the sound of his roar, but they share a deep love of walnuts and feasting, and one day Bill might be just as tall as him. Giganto certainly never wants to alarm Bill, and under that tough exterior, there are lots of things he's just as worried about too!

If I fetch you a bone, will you stop roaring?
Maybe two?

PREHISTORIC PROPS

Use these extra props and decorations to create your own Cretacia! You can place them inside or outside the playset and make the world just as you want it.

STORY CARD

BILL'S NIGHT-TIME FEAST

Bill wakes up from a deep snooze to find all his coconuts missing. He looks in his secret berry stash, but they're gone too – and his dates, and pies, and cakes.

There's a food thief on the loose! They go hunting for the culprit. Is it Archie? Is it Marshall? Is it Totor and Cror? Termy?

Mazu helps Bill to find clues, but he can only find his own footprints. It must've been a big dino to reach them without leaving marks. Could the thief be... Gigantosaurus?

STORY CARD

INVISI-BILL

When Bill gets sad about always losing at hide-and-seek, Tiny, Mazu and Rocky trick him into believing he's invisible to make him feel better.

No matter what, they keep up the act, and Bill realises that if he can't be seen, he has nothing to fear. He can be a courageous, unseen superhero. He can be... Invisi-Bill!

He scares off a dino stealing Rugo's melon, survives a stampede, and even chases Giganto away to make him stop scaring dinos by suddenly appearing next to them.

STORY CARD

BILL'S BROKEN PROMISE

Bill's setting up Rocky's birthday party, and has to keep the present secret: a painting of Giganto! But Bill's forgotten the candles, and rushes to the river for reeds.

Termy's guarding them, and demands to know the secret before she'll give the reed candles to Bill. But when she starts telling other people, the message changes slightly every time, until Rocky overhears that Giganto is coming to the party himself!

Bill can't bring himself to break the news, and leads Giganto there with food.

STORY CARD

COCO BILL

Bill can't find his favourite coconuts, until Giganto starts stomping around and sends them falling from the trees! When Bill gets there though, they're all gone – and one of them's rolling away...

Bill chases after it to find little Rugo secretly carrying it along, and discovers that she's picked all the trees clean for herself.

Hegan flies Bill everywhere until he spots a cocconut grove, and they race to get there first, but their attempts to grab them only drop more for Rugo.

His friends soon catch up, and tell him he's not really invisible – but it's interesting how Giganto keeps appearing out of nowhere, and Bill might be on to something.

They track Giganto, and realise that his shiny scales reflect the jungle around him when he stays still, turning him invisible!

Totor and Cror steal Giganto's bone, and Bill uses his new confidence to make them give it back. Knowing that he can be a hero when he wants to be, even for Giganto, Bill's glad to see a new, braver side to himself.

They try to track him, but they walk long into the night, and settle in to nap before going any further. In the middle of the night, still fast asleep, Bill slowly gets up and starts sniffing around. He's sleepwalking!

He stumbles and snoozes all the way to Giganto, picks up his bone, then walks all the way back with it. And every time he passes someone sleeping by their food, he steals it!

But when Bill accidentally sleepwalks off a cliff near the dino den, Giganto is there to catch him. He's followed the thief himself! Bill's amazed to find out the truth, and lays out a feast to apologise to everyone.

Frustrated at Rugo's selfish behaviour, Bill discovers where she's taking them all by following her tracks. Rugo has a secret den, packed with more coconuts than anyone could eat on their own!

He steals all of them to teach her a lesson, filling the dino den, but Rocky, Tiny and Mazu think he's a selfish 'Coco Bill' for taking them.

When Bill goes back to Rugo's den, he finds hundreds of little rugosodons waiting hungrily for food, and Rugo heartbroken about losing the coconuts she gathered for her family reunion. Bill realises his mistake, and gives all of the coconuts back for their party.

The party hasn't been set up for Gigantosaurus to be there though. The tall, delicate cake of layered food, the fragile handmade presents, the careful decorations...

Giganto eats all the cake in one bite, accidentally stomps on the presents – including Tiny's painting, breaking it into pieces – and ruins the decorations as he thunders away.

Bill is devastated that he's spoiled the party, but Rocky loves having Tiny's painting as a puzzle to make instead. He's thrilled about Giganto coming to his party, and thinks his friends have given him the best birthday ever.

Carefully tear this page out and slide it into the back of the playset to change the scene.
