JUST THE WAY YOU ARE
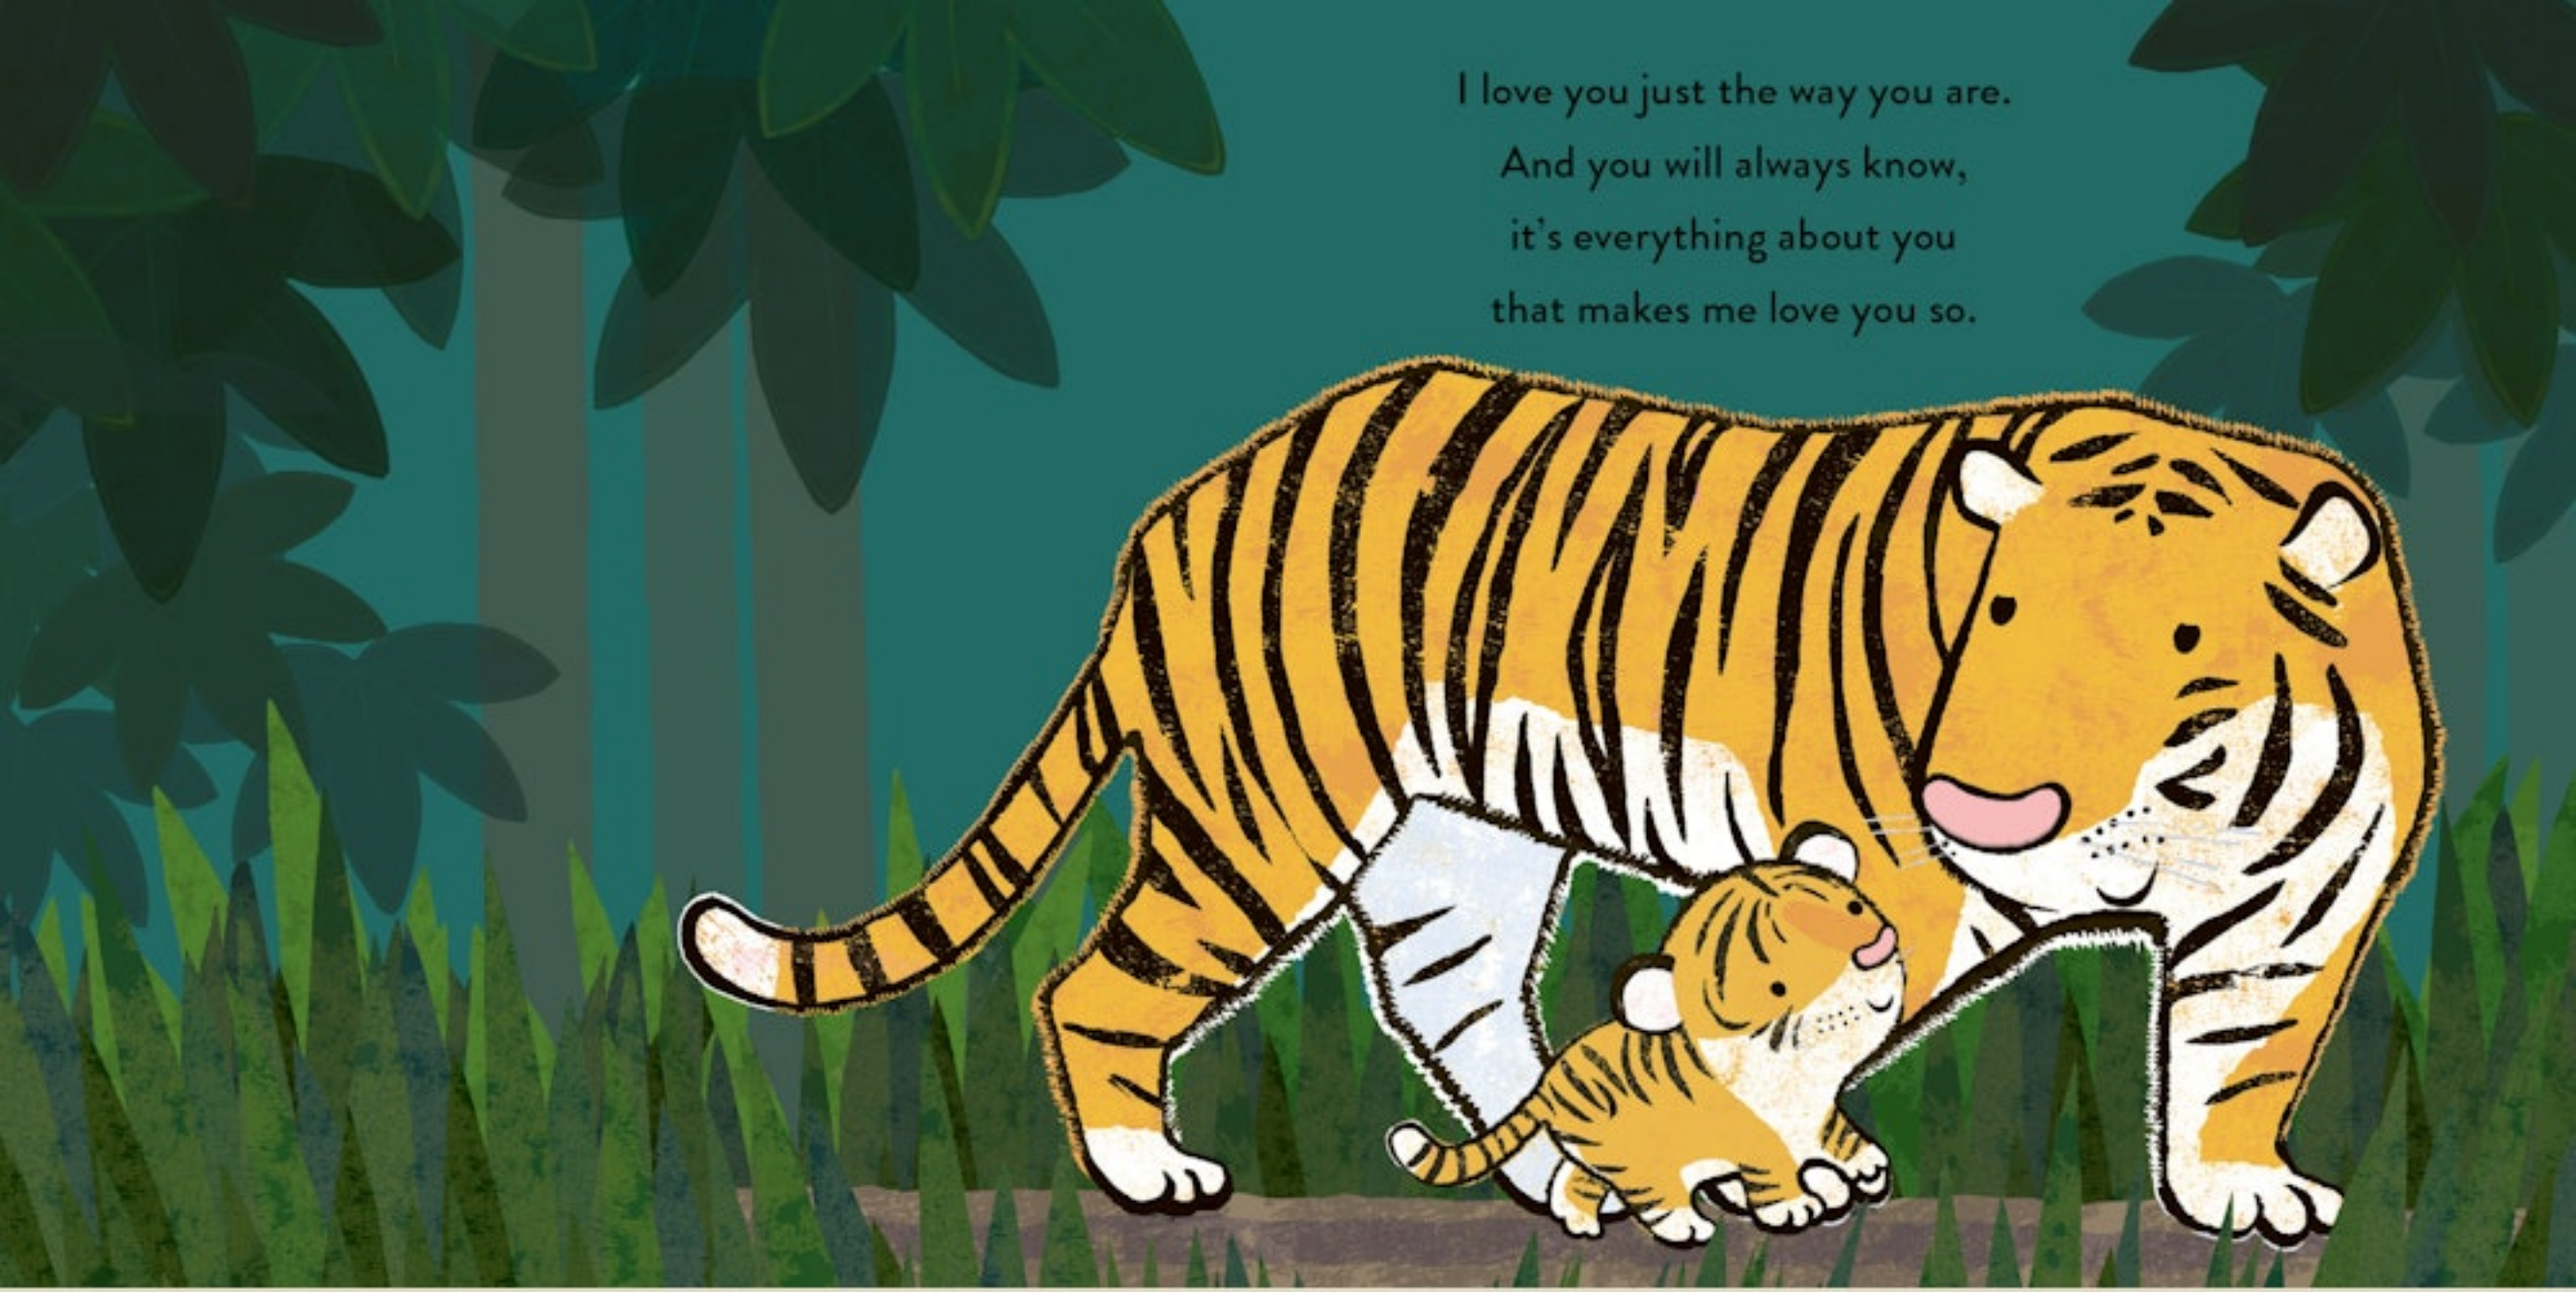
Emma Dodd

I love you just the way you are.
And you will always know,
it's everything about you
that makes me love you so.



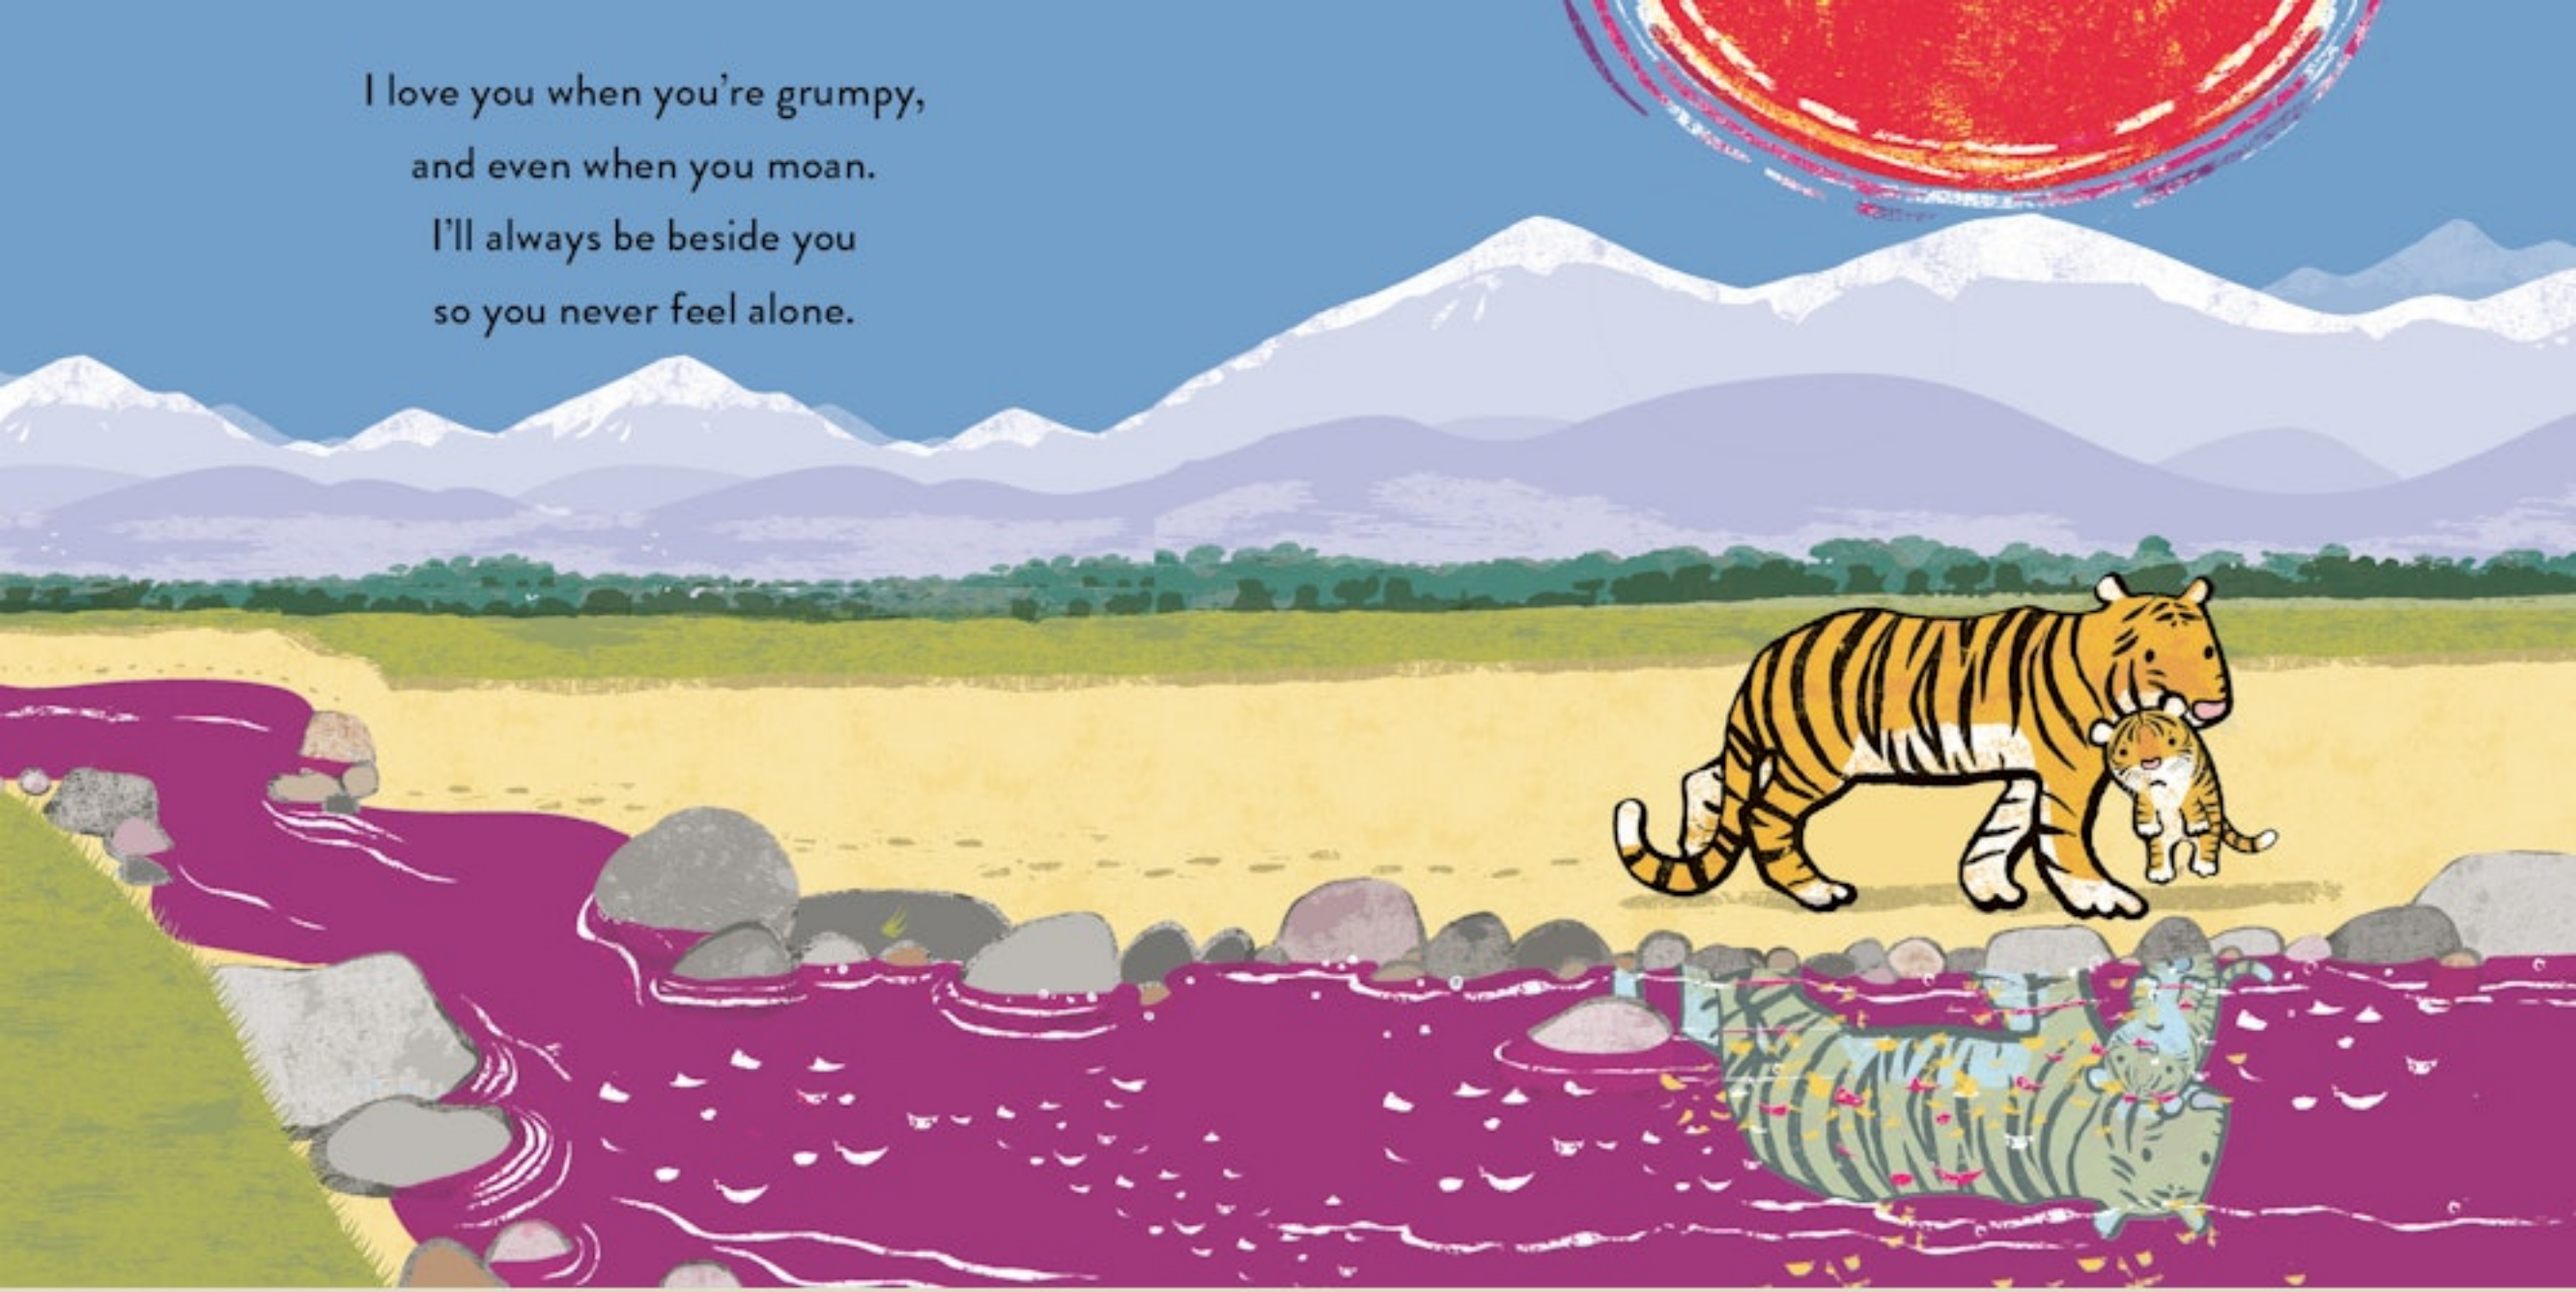
Your smile is like the sunshine
that comes after the rain.

And since you came into my life,
it's never been the same.

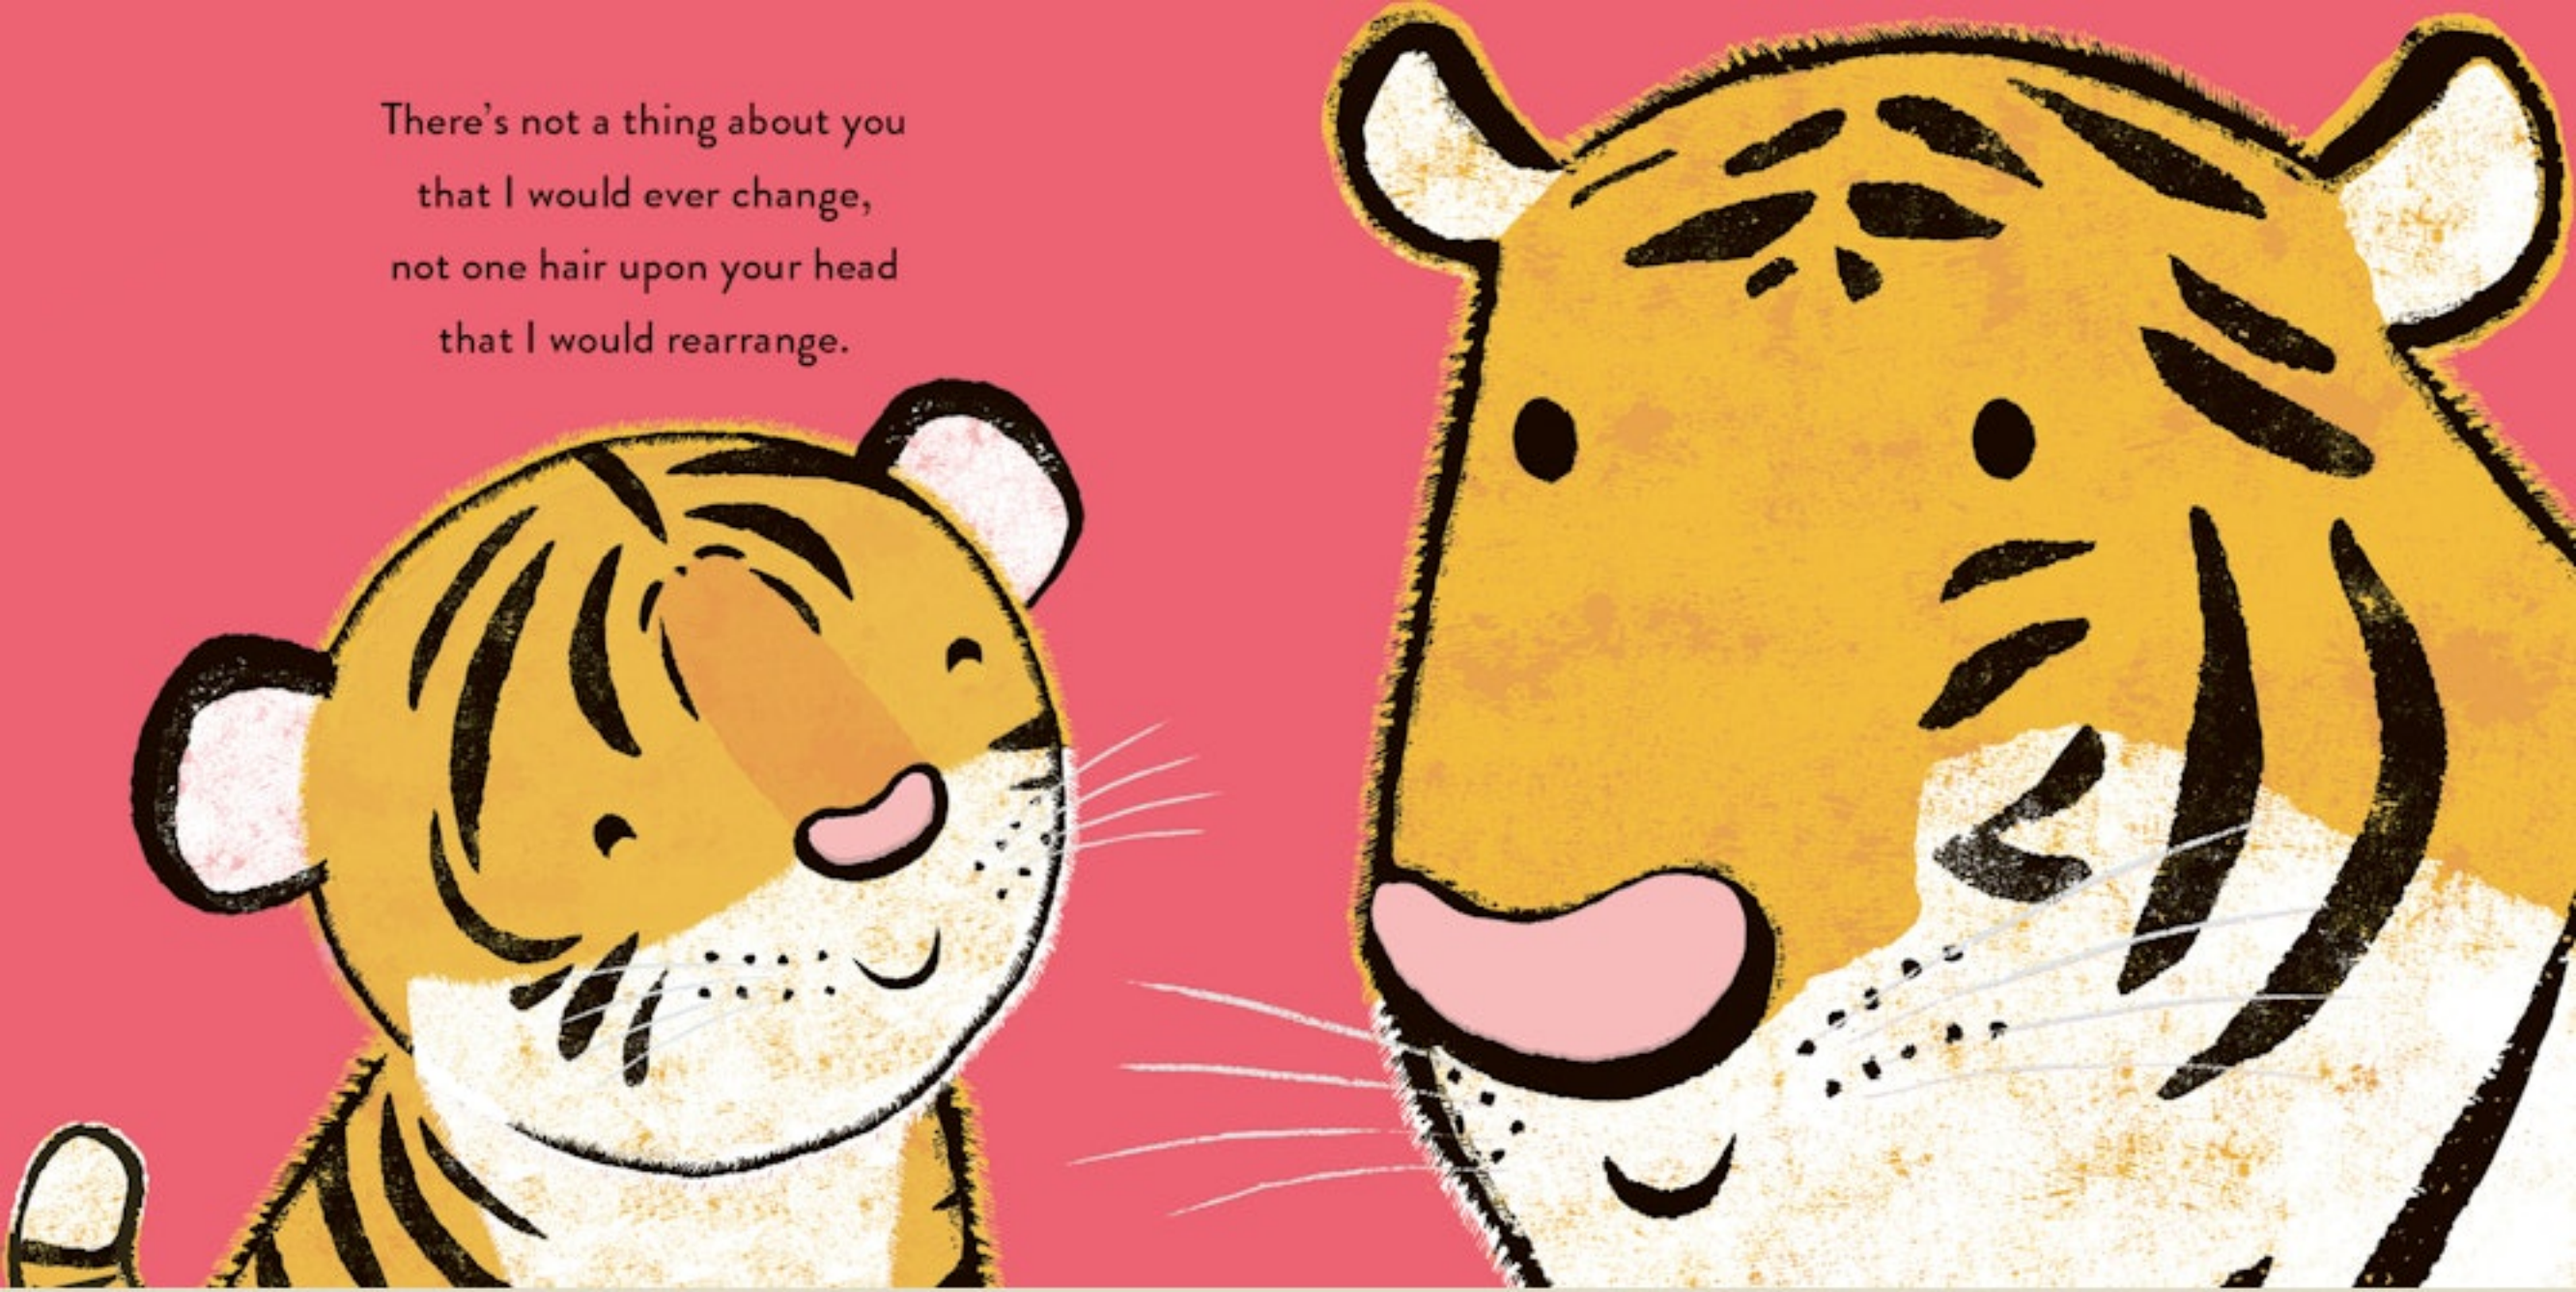
I love you when you're cheerful,
I love you when you're mad.

I love you when you're tearful
and when you're quiet and sad.

I love you when you're grumpy,
and even when you moan.
I'll always be beside you
so you never feel alone.



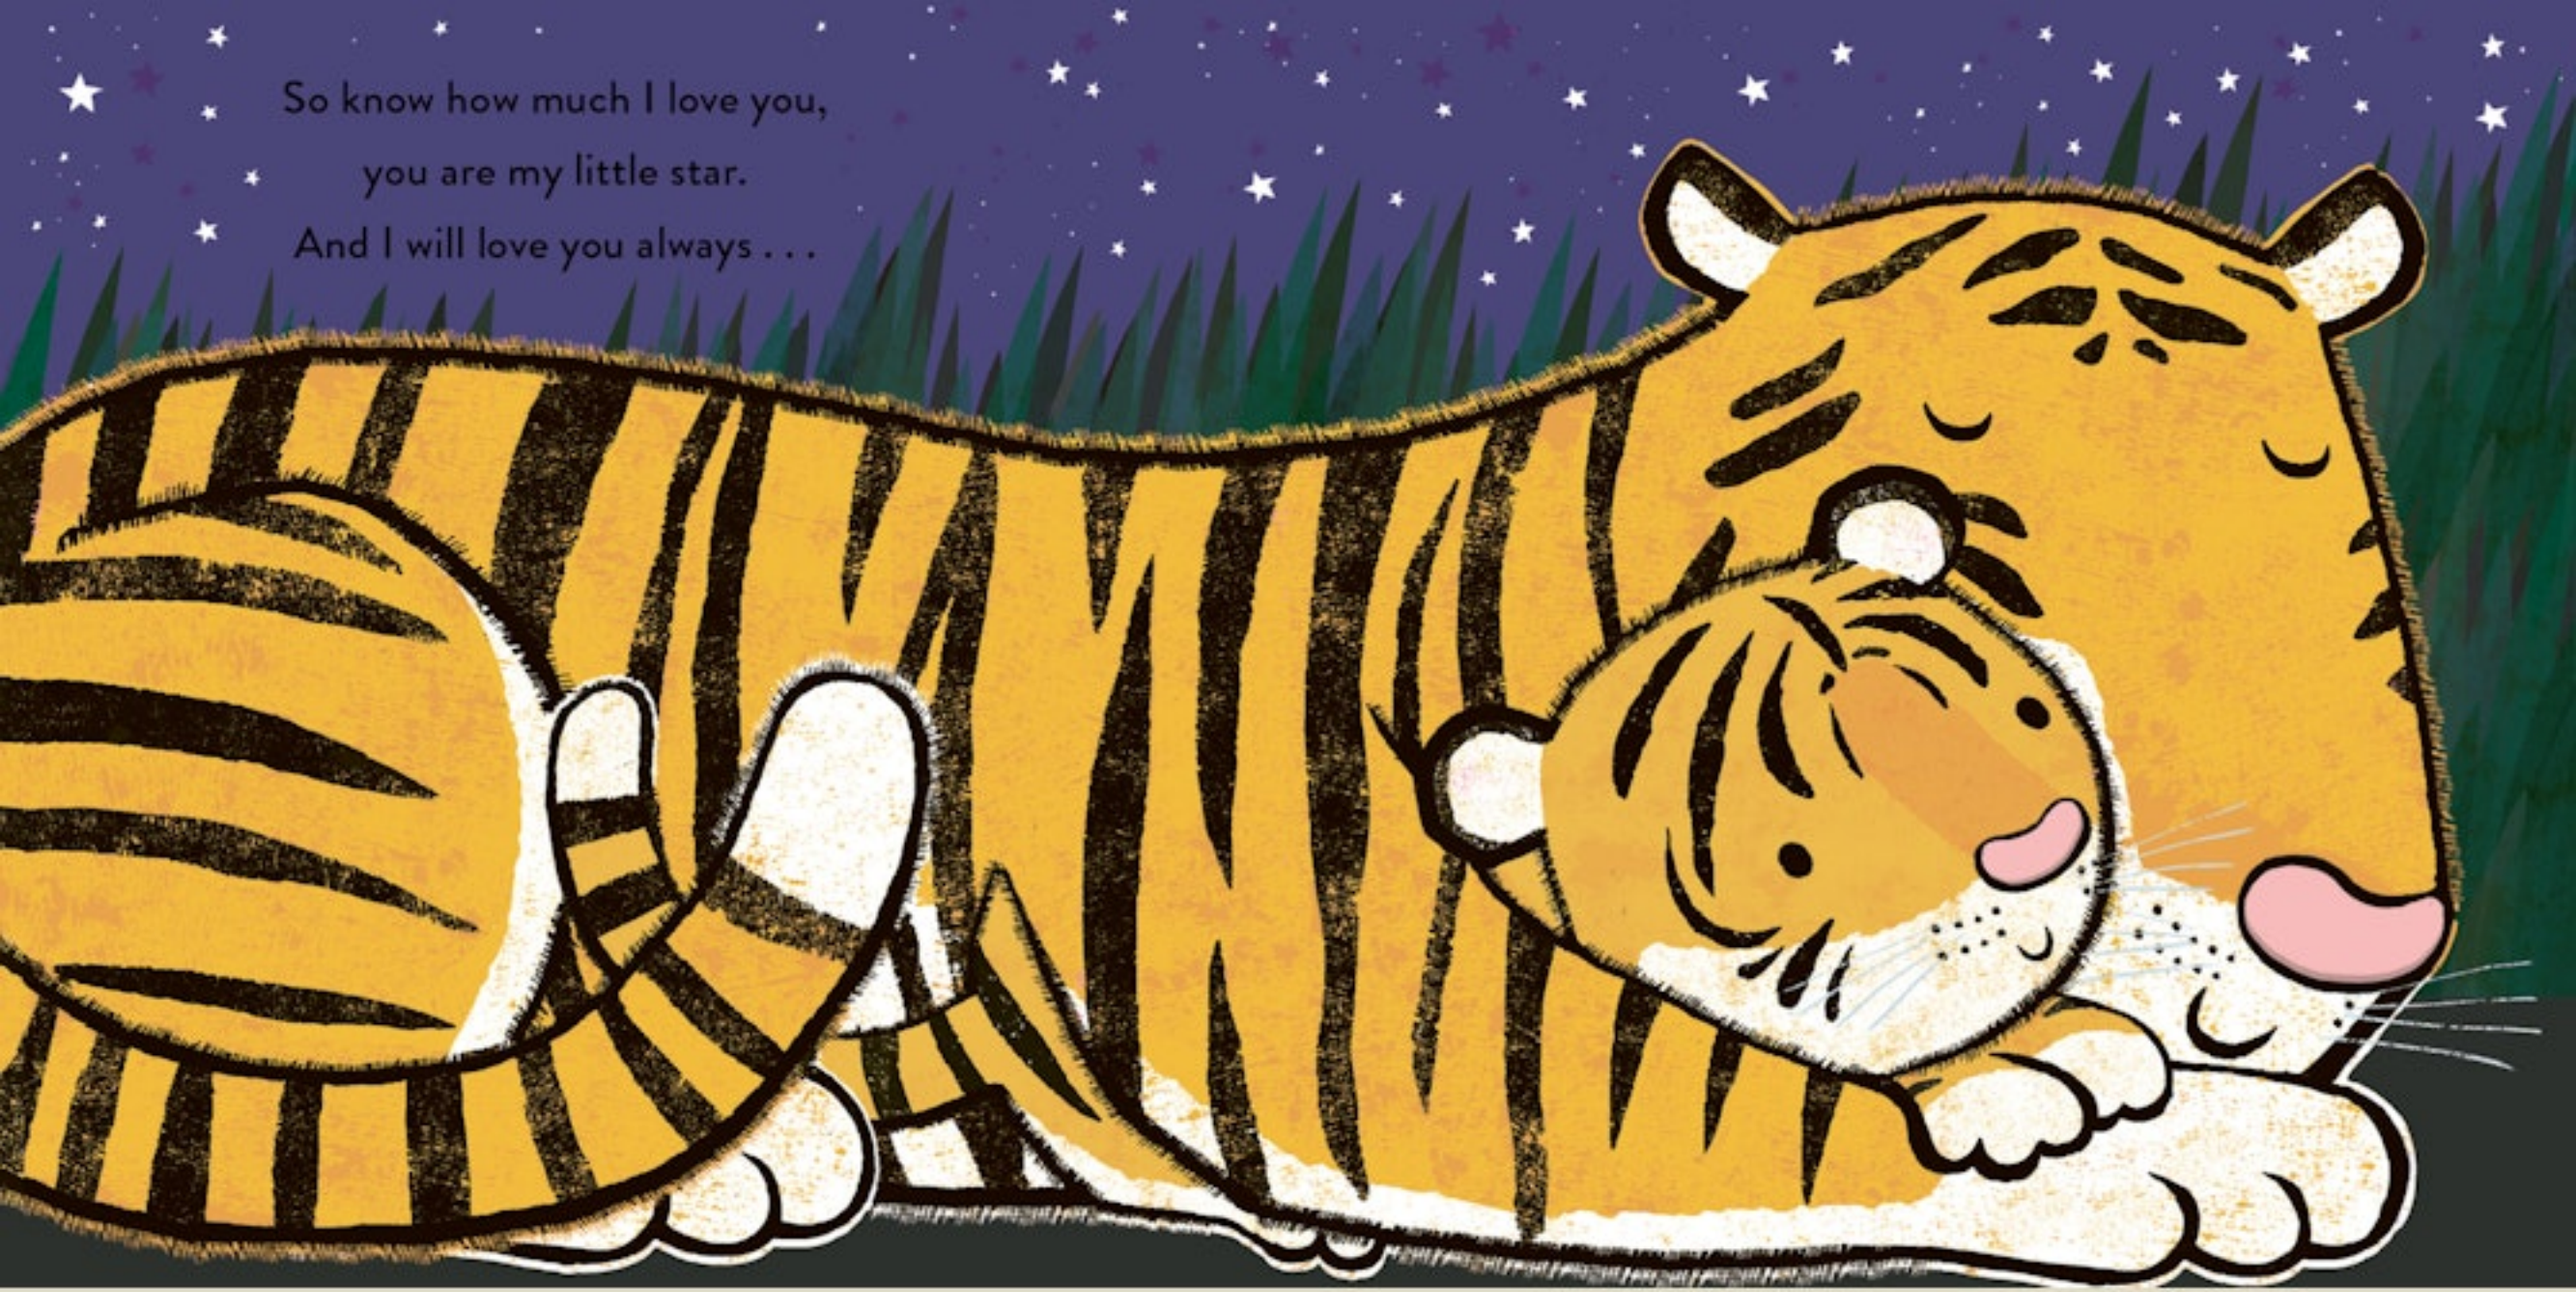
There's not a thing about you
that I would ever change,
not one hair upon your head
that I would rearrange.



And even when you get things wrong,
no matter what you do,

I can't imagine anyone
more wonderful than you.

For I can see the universe
shining in your eyes,
and when I look at you I'm filled
with wonder and surprise.



So know how much I love you,
you are my little star.
And I will love you always . . .

. . . just the way you are.
