

FOLLOW YOUR HEART

Emma Dodd

Each day that dawns
brings a fresh, new start.

Adventures await
when you follow your heart.

Exciting decisions
and choices to make.

Which way will you go?
Which path will you take?

Will you follow the crowd
and join in the fun,
leaping and laughing
as you play in the sun?

Will you be by yourself
and go it alone,

taking some time
to explore on your own?

Though you are young,
you are brave and strong.

When you follow your heart,
you cannot go wrong.

The world can feel big,
the world can feel wide;
but when you are worried
just stay by my side.

If you listen quietly
at the end of each day . . .

... your heart whispers to you
and shows you the way.

So follow your heart
and soon you will see,
it will always take you . . .

... where you're meant to be.
