NINA'S BOOK OF LITTLE THINGS!

B P P

The publisher would like to thank Nina Clemente for allowing her own private book to be made available to children the world over.

The original book that Keith Haring made is 12 x 16 inches and was a gift to Nina on the occasion of her seventh birthday.

A NOTE FROM NINA

I remember drawing a ghost town with Keith on my wall next to my bed. I was scared of ghosts and Keith helped me transition that fear by making all the ghosts look happy and friendly. I also remember giggling with Keith under tables at fancy dinner parties as he told me he wanted to be a pink witch for Halloween.

I don't think I ever realized Keith was an adult. He was a generous companion to so many children, teaching us all a simple lesson of sharing and caring. Not a day goes by that I don't think about how lucky I am to have spent time in Keith's world.

Nina's Book of Little Things was given to me on my seventh birthday and it has since been published in many languages around the world. I am so happy this new edition is available for the next generation of children, as I know Keith wanted everyone to share in his world of drawing, laughter and love.
