Locomotion

THE FIRST RAILWAYS

It is strange to think that they have only been around as we know them for about two hundred years.

The first steam engines were used in British mines during the 17th century to pump water. It wasn't long before engineers tried using steam power to propel vehicles, and in 1802 the inventor Richard Trevithick built the very first working steam locomotive.

ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES

The first electric train was tested as far back as 1837. Unlike steam trains, electric locomotives do not carry fuel on-board. Instead, they are powered by electricity which can be supplied from overhead lines, a third rail or in storage such as batteries. Because electric trains can be powered by renewable energy sources, they are considered less polluting than steam or diesel trains.

Consisting of a small locomotive and three cars, it reached a speed of just 13km/h.

The ETR 200 is a record-breaking electric passenger train. It is widely considered one of the first ever high-speed trains and was put into service in 1936. In 1939, it broke the speed record for trains by reaching just over 201km/h.

The ICE (InterCity Express) is one of Germany's most successful electric trains. The third generation ICE 3, can reach speeds of 300km/h. Since 2018, it has run on entirely renewable energy sources.

THE GAUGE

STEAM LOCOMOTIVES

Once the possibility of steam-powered engines had been realized, a whole host of locomotives were tried and tested around the world. Some proved too heavy, others too unreliable and some were even dangerous, but the arrival of one revolutionary design changed the course of history. Sketch, designed by engineer Robert Stephenson (George Stephenson's son – see page 8) was to provide the principle of design for the vast majority of steam locomotives that followed.

DIESEL LOCOMOTIVES

In a diesel locomotive, the power comes from an engine that burns diesel oil. While a steam locomotive needed two people to crew it and hours to attain the right steam pressure, a diesel locomotive could simply be switched on and driven away, making them much easier and much cheaper to run. Rudolf Diesel patented his first diesel engine in 1898, but it wasn't until around 1912 that they were first used in a locomotive.

The famous DPG Class SVT 877 Hamburg Flyer, often referred to as the 'Flying Hamburger', was first put into service in 1933. Its smooth, rounded shape was influenced by Zeppelin airships allowing for minimal air resistance.

The De10c, built in 1956, was considered the most powerful diesel locomotive in the world at that time.

The Intercity 125 is one of the most successful diesel trains of all time. So named because it was designed to cruise at 125 mph (about 201 km/h) when in service, it also holds the all-time speed record for diesel trains of 238 km/h, which it reached in 1987.

LADYBIRD POSE

Bend your knees, roll your shoulders back, and press your hands together.

SAY "I AM HAPPY"

SLEEP POSE

Lie on your back and take slow breaths. Close your eyes if you want. Try to empty yourself of thoughts. If your mind wanders away, notice where it goes, then bring your attention back to your breathing.

YOUR SAFE PLACE

Draw or stick a picture of somewhere you feel completely safe and happy.

Your safe place could be somewhere you've seen or been to, heard about, read about or dreamt about. A special, safe place where everything feels peaceful, relaxed and wonderful.

TAKE A BREATH!

Try this breathing exercise to help you relax:

STEP 1

Make sure you are sitting comfortably in a quiet and safe place. When you feel ready, close your eyes. Notice your breathing. Think about how it feels breathing in and breathing out. Try to breathe in through your nose and out through your mouth.

STEP 2

Place your hand on your tummy and focus on the feeling of your stomach rising and falling with each breath. When you breathe in, quietly say 'in' to yourself, and when you breathe out, quietly say 'out' to yourself.

STEP 3

Concentrate on nothing but your breathing and try to let go of any other thoughts you may have.

When you've had lots of practice at the breathing exercise, see if you can think about a happy memory at the same time. This way, your happy memory will take up all the space in your brain, and there won't be any room for the worries.
