Jane Foster's Baby's First Stories: 0-3 months

A series that grows with your baby

- Written in consultation with Early Years Expert, Lizzie Noble, each book perfectly suits your baby's needs at every stage of their first year
- Fills a gap in the market: parents are told to read to their baby every day, but black and white books usually have little text. Reading aloud soothes babies from birth, promotes baby-carer bonding, builds children's language skills, and increases the chances that parents will continue to read to babies as they grow older
- Perfect for parents who use the Wonder Weeks App, read Your Baby Week by Week, or use milestone cards to mark big moments
- 4 books in the series, all featuring the same animal characters: 0-3 months; 3-6 months; 6-9 months; 9-12 months

Jane Foster's Baby's First Stories: 6–9 months

A series that grows with your baby

- Written in consultation with Early Years Expert, Lizzie Noble
- Fills a gap in the market: parents are told to read to their baby every day, but black and white books often have little text. Reading aloud soothes babies, promotes bonding, builds language skills, and increases the chance that parents will read to babies as they grow older. 6-9 months has black, white, red and blue art, as from 6 months, babies can see most colours. The story relates to routines, to reflect little ones starting to wean, and settling into more regular patterns.
- Perfect for parents who use the Wonder Weeks App, read Your Baby Week by Week, or use milestone cards to mark big moments

Jane Foster's Baby's First Stories: 9-12 months

A beautifully illustrated series that grows with your baby.

- Written in consultation with Early Years Expert, Lizzie Noble
- Fills a gap in the market: parents are told to read to their baby every day, but black and white books often have little text. Reading aloud soothes babies, promotes bonding, builds language skills, and increases the chance that parents will read to babies as they grow older. 9-12 months has black, white, red, blue and yellow art, as babies' eyesight becomes more like our own. The stories introduce questions and spotting elements for older babies who can notice small details and respond to basic questions.
- Perfect for parents who use the Wonder Weeks App, read Your Baby Week by Week, or use milestone cards to mark big moments

Bessie's Bees

An uplifting story about starting nursery with a courageous neurodiverse character at its centre.

- Bringing debut, neurodiverse author George Kirk to the Templar picture book list, allowing us to grow our range of underrepresented voices and experiences.
- While there has been an increase in positive representations and neurodiverse voices in middle-grade fiction, this is yet to be seen in the trade picture book market. Templar can be one of the first to champion neurodiverse voices and stories in this space.

A hilarious rhyming romp that perfectly encapsulates how being HANGRY really makes you feel!

- Bringing debut author Kathryn Wanless as well as established, commercial talent Fred Blunt to the Templar list with his wit and humour.
- Exploring a theme that isn't currently seen in the picture book market - there are plenty of books about being hungry OR angry, but not both!
- This story uses humour as a conversation starter for children to talk about the very real, intense emotions that come with hunger.
- The book acts as a reminder that we all get hangry, even grown-ups, but it's how we deal with those feelings that matters.
- Cover treatment: matt lam, SPUV and pantone.

The General

Michael Foreman's debut picture book, first published in 1961, is reproduced in all its glory.

- Over 60 years since its first publication, this story about a tyrannical ruler who finds beauty in peace and manages to convince other world leaders to put down their guns and smell the flowers is as relevant now as it was then.
- The first book ever illustrated by the exceptional Michael Foreman OBE, one of the UK's best-loved and most prolific creators in children's books.
- Beautifully restored and reproduced, a children's book classic which will be treasured for generations to come.

The General

He heard the birds singing. All at once the General came upon a field of beautiful flowers. Never had he seen such a wonderful sight. There were more kinds of flowers than he had ever imagined, and more colours than any other had ever dreamed of.

General Jodhpur went quite still for a few minutes, and then he slowly walked across the field and sat down in the middle of the flowers. He watched the bees buzzing in and out, searching the pollen to make honey. He thought that one would be sure to land on his nose, but the bees were far too busy to notice even a famous general.

He knew that he and his soldiers must have scattered over thousands of beautiful flowers, and delighted small animals every time. "I will never harm or frighten anything again," he said. "I will try to help the animals and treat the flowers and plants and all other things that grow."

In the evening he told his soldiers that he wanted them to leave the army and return to their homes and jobs, and to help him make their country the most beautiful in the world. Everyone was so happy. The soldiers were even happier than General Jodhpur.

General Jodhpur was very excited by all that was happening. When he visited his men to see how their work was progressing, and he did this every day, they were glad to see him.

His name was General Jodhpur. He wanted to be the most famous general in the world and to have his army admired by generals from all the other countries. And so he kept his soldiers busy cleaning their weapons, pressing their uniforms, and polishing their badges and boots.

Every morning very early, as soon as the sun was up, the soldiers had to be out on the parade grounds smartly dressed ready to practise marching.

When they had finished marching, the soldiers divided into several groups. The cooks went to the kitchens to prepare the meals. The cavalry went to the stables to groom and feed the horses.

The Baker by the Sea

A seaside storybook about community and family

- Atmospheric pen-and-ink artwork from debut author and illustrator Paula White. Paula was winner of the 2019 Templar Design and Illustration Awards.
- Reminiscent of the Greenaway winning Town is by the Sea (Walker, 2018).
- The story offers a window onto the past, guiding us around the Beach Village that once stood where Paula grew up, in Lowestoft, Suffolk. This busy, bustling place once made its living from the sea - but was eventually swept away by those very same waves.
- A moving exploration of the importance of community, with a strong father-son relationship at its heart.
- An artistic fishing village story which should be popular with retailers in seaside locations.

The Flickering Fires

A journey through life's elemental forces by Greenaway award-winner Grahame Baker-Smith.

- Narrative non-fiction that explores the extraordinary impact of fire in our world.
- The final book in The Elements series, which has sold over 180,000 copies worldwide (as of November 2023).
- Award-winning books include the Greenaway shortlisted Leon and the Place Between, FArTHER which won the Kate Greenaway medal in 2011, and the first title in this series; The Rhythm of the Rain which won the English 4-11 Picture Book Award.

The Flickering Fires

The Copper Age. The Bronze Age. The Iron Age.
Humanity was rarely from chemical elements. Heat formed.
Fire at the heart of all of it.
The flames give off when and burn are an echo
of energy from the sun which is long extinct forever.
Fire gives humankind access to the deepest nature of the earth.
The iron, zinc and metals of its formation.

...looks to the sun.
Fire at the heart of all of it.

When mixed with clouds of interstellar gas and dust they form the building blocks of new stars.
Like our Sun. And new planets. Like Earth.

A world with a fiery heart.
Assembled in a vast cosmic forge of rock and heat.
Alive with star dust.

It's time to bring Old Bear back to the playroom!

- Jane Hissey's best-selling teddy bear book is packed with heartfelt humour, nostalgia and vintage illustrations, making it the perfect bedtime story for children up to 5 years old.
- Jane Hissey's best-selling series became the basis for the BAFTA award-winning TV series, Old Bear and Friends.
- The Old Bear and Friends series has become a timeless classic for teddy bear lovers, selling over 7 million copies internationally and 126,000 through TCM alone.
- First published in 1986, Old Bear is packed with nostalgia and brings this iconic teddy to a new generation of children whose parents grew up reading these books.

Old Bear

LET'S try making ourselves into a tower,' said Duck. 'Good idea!' said Bramwell. Little Bear climbed on top of Rabbit's head and Rabbit hopped onto Duck's back. They stretched up as far as they could, but then Duck opened his book to say something. Rabbit wobbled, and they all collapsed on top of Bramwell.

'Sorry,' said Duck, 'perhaps that wasn't a very good idea.' 'Not one of your best,' replied Bramwell from somewhere underneath the heap.

IKNOW!' said Rabbit. 'Let's try bouncing on the bed.' 'Trust you to think of that,' said Bramwell. 'This never can mean a bit of bouncing, especially when it's not allowed!' Rabbit climbed onto the bed and began to bounce.

*Up and down,
Up and down.*

The others joined him. They bounced higher and higher but still they couldn't reach the trap door in the ceiling.

DUCK began to cry. 'Oh dear!' he sobbed. 'What are we going to do now? We'll never be able to rescue Old Bear and he'll be stuck up there getting lonelier and lonelier for ever and ever.'

'We haven't given up,' said Bramwell firmly. 'Come on Little Bear, quite good at ideas.'

But Little Bear had already noticed the plant in the corner of the room.

IVE got it!' he cried. 'I could climb up this plant, swing from the leaves, kick the trap door open and jump in!'

In case it wobbled, Bramwell Brown, Duck and Rabbit steadied the pot. Little Bear bravely climbed up the plant until he reached the very top leaf. He took hold of it and started to swing to and fro, but he swung so hard that the leaf broke . . . SNAP!

He came crashing down. Luckily, Bramwell Brown was right underneath to catch him in his paws.

'That was a rotten idea,' said Little Bear.

'What I was thinking,' said Duck, 'was that it is a pity I can't fly very well, as I could have been quite a help.'

'Ah ha!' said Bramwell. 'That, my dear Duck, has given me a very good idea. I really think this one might work.'

Talking History

In 1903, in the city of Manchester, UK, Emmeline Pankhurst and her eldest daughter Christabel founded the Women's Social and Political Union (WSPU). The organisation campaigned fearlessly for women's right to vote.

THE SUFFRAGETTE MOVEMENT

This wasn't the first time that women in Britain had fought for the vote. Since the mid-nineteenth century, female campaigners called 'suffragists' had tried to win rights for women in society through peaceful petitions and, later on, by refusing to pay their taxes.

But this campaign was slow with few results. After years of unsuccessful peaceful protest by the suffragists, the WSPU decided that it was time for action - 'Deeds Not Words', as their motto said. Members of the WSPU took part in 'civil disobedience' to literally fight for their cause. They chained themselves to railings, heckled politicians, placed bombs in empty buildings, and smashed windows in public places, constantly clashing with the authorities. They were so determined to achieve their political aims that they deliberately took part in violence and vandalism to influence the public and the government. Newspapers began referring to militant WSPU campaigners as 'suffragettes'. By 1910, the WSPU had branches all over the country.

THE CAT AND MOUSE ACT

Around 1,000 suffragettes were imprisoned for their 'substance' behaviour. While in jail, some continued to fight by going on hunger strikes, refusing to eat or drink. At first, they were released to prevent them from starving, but, by 1910, prison wardens began to force feed them. Women were badly hurt, prompting public outrage at what was seen as government torture. The government responded by passing the 1913 'Prisoners' (Temporary Discharge for Ill Health) Act. Under this new law, when women on hunger strike became critically weak, they were sent home. As soon as they recovered, they were promptly returned to continue their sentence. It was dubbed the 'Cat and Mouse Act' because of the way a cat plays with its prey repeatedly letting it escape before catching it again. Emmeline Pankhurst was imprisoned and released 16 times! It was in 1913, in between prison sentences, that she visited the United States to campaign for support and funding. She addressed a group of women at the Parsons Theatre in Hartford, Connecticut, in a powerful speech attempting to justify the use of militant tactics in the fight for women's rights.

Art of Protest

SYMBOLISM

Protest art often makes use of symbols, which can quickly convey powerful meaning.

Paper Cranes

In Japan, it is believed that someone who folds 1,000 origami cranes will be granted a wish. In 1945, two-year-old Sadako Sasaki was in the vicinity of the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima. She suffered long-term effects from that exposure, including developing leukaemia. Before she died at the age of 12, Sadako folded more than 1,000 cranes, and the paper crane went on to become a symbol of peace.

The Peace Sign

The peace sign was created by the British artist Gerald Holtom in 1958 as the logo for a campaign for nuclear disarmament in the UK. It has since become an iconic symbol of calls for peace.

Umbrellas

During protests for democracy in Hong Kong in 2014, activists used umbrellas as shields against tear gas and other aggressions by the police. The umbrellas came to symbolize the protests and gave the movement its name (read more on pages 52-53).

The Clenched Fist

The image of an upraised clenched fist is a powerful symbol of protest and resistance. Some of its first uses were by labour unions in the early 1900s, before it grew in popularity and became a symbol of many causes, including Black Power, the anti-apartheid movement and the feminist movement.

The Rainbow

The rainbow is the most iconic symbol of the LGBTQ+ movement. It represents diversity, acceptance and the spectrum of human sexualities and genders.

World of Sport

TRACK AND FIELD SPORTS
Track and field sports take place outdoors on a running track. Track events are running competitions and in field events, athletes compete in jumping and throwing events.

JAVELIN
Javelin was developed from the spear used by ancient warriors. The first javelin was made of wood and had a wooden shaft. It was used for hunting and warfare. The modern javelin was invented in 1880 in Germany. It is now made of metal and has a pointed tip.

LONG JUMP
The long jump is one of the oldest track events. It was first recorded in ancient Greece. The long jumper runs a short distance and then jumps as far as possible into a sandpit. The world record is held by Mike Powell of the USA, who jumped 9.94 metres in 1991.

GALINA CHISTAKOVA
Galina Chistakova is a Russian long jumper. She won the gold medal at the 1996 Atlanta Olympics. She is the only woman to have won the world title in the long jump.

DISCUS
One of the oldest track events is the discus. It was first recorded in ancient Greece. The discus is a flat, circular object that is thrown. The world record is held by Giedrė Temevičiūtė of Lithuania, who threw it 66.17 metres in 2000.

JAN SZENTI
Jan Szeñti is a Hungarian discus thrower. He won the gold medal at the 1968 Mexico City Olympics. He is the only man to have won the world title in the discus.

AMERICAN FOOTBALL
American football is a team sport that originated in the United States. It is a contact sport where players use their bodies to move the ball down the field. The game is played on a rectangular field and is divided into four quarters. The team that scores the most points at the end of the game wins.

AIM OF THE GAME
The aim of the game is to move the ball down the field and score points. This is done by passing the ball to teammates or kicking it into the goalposts. The team that scores the most points wins.

MEET THE TEAM
There are 11 players on the field. They are divided into two teams: the offense and the defense. The offense tries to move the ball down the field, while the defense tries to stop them.

MAKING A PLAY
A play is a series of actions that happen on the field. It starts with the offense lining up at the line of scrimmage. The quarterback then decides what to do next. The play can end in a variety of ways, such as a touchdown or a field goal.

FOR READY
One of the most important parts of the game is the huddle. This is where the players talk to each other and plan their strategy. The huddle is a key part of the game and is where the team comes together.

RUGBY
Rugby is a team sport that originated in England. It is a contact sport where players use their bodies to move the ball down the field. The game is played on a rectangular field and is divided into two halves. The team that scores the most points at the end of the game wins.

AIM OF THE GAME
The aim of the game is to move the ball down the field and score points. This is done by passing the ball to teammates or kicking it into the goalposts. The team that scores the most points wins.

BASEBALL
Baseball is a team sport that originated in the United States. It is a contact sport where players use their bodies to move the ball down the field. The game is played on a diamond-shaped field and is divided into nine innings. The team that scores the most runs at the end of the game wins.

CRICKET
Cricket is a team sport that originated in England. It is a contact sport where players use their bodies to move the ball down the field. The game is played on a rectangular field and is divided into two halves. The team that scores the most runs at the end of the game wins.

HOW SPORT BEGAN
People have always enjoyed getting together and competing to find out who's the strongest, fastest or best at something. Humans have been playing sport since ancient times.

WHAT WAS THE FIRST SPORT?
Can you see any ancient cave paintings on the map? We don't know for certain what the world's first sport was, but we can guess from these ancient artworks.

GRAND BEGINNINGS
The first competitive sport we know about was recorded in a famous story, the Epic of Gilgamesh, from 2100 BC. In it King Gilgamesh fights a wild man to see who is stronger.

Pateca puripatka
Pateca puripatka was played in the ancient Mexican city of Teotihuacan as long ago as 1500 BC. It was a bit like hockey except the ball was on fire!

In chunky, played for centuries by Native Americans
In chunky, played for centuries by Native Americans, a stone disc was rolled across the ground. Teams throw spears to predict where they thought it would land.

The ancient Mayan ballgame of pitz
The ancient Mayan ballgame of pitz was invented sometime between 2,000 and 4,500 years ago. Competitors had to get a ball through a stone hoop without using their hands.

Stone pitz hoops can still be seen in ruined Mayan ball courts in South America.

Wall paintings made in caves in Lascaux, France, around 20,000 years ago
Wall paintings made in caves in Lascaux, France, around 20,000 years ago, seem to show people running and wrestling.

Some ancient Egyptian tomb paintings demonstrate wrestling positions.

The army of ancient Rome played harpastum, a dangerous sport a bit like rugby, as a way of training their soldiers.

During the Western Zhou Dynasty (1046-771 BC), archery was part of the education of wealthy men.

Mongolian cave paintings from 5,000 years ago show people wrestling in front of spectators.

In boat jousting, two people in a boat would fight with long poles or 'maces'. Ancient Egyptian carvings show fishermen jousting. They tried to push each other into the river Nile!

Surfing has been popular in the Pacific for hundreds of years. In Hawaii, chiefs competed in fierce competitions, and good surfers could win high social status.

The Māori of New Zealand participated in a competition known as the Māori Games - often between neighbouring villages. Men, women and children all competed in canoe races, athletics and martial arts.

A Guide to Day and Night

Polar night and midnight sun

At the very north and south of Earth, days work differently. For six months of the year the sun never rises above the horizon. This is called the POLAR NIGHT, and it is dark all the time. For the other six months of the year, the sun never falls below the horizon. This is called the MIDNIGHT SUN, and it is light all the time.

This phenomenon happens because Earth is tilted. When one pole is tilted towards the sun, the other pole is tilted away. This makes daytime or nighttime last more than 24 hours in these places.

Dawn

Before the sun has risen above the horizon, the sky lightens. This time of day is also known as twilight.

Sunrise

The sun rises higher, eventually coming up over the horizon line, warming the air.

Daytime

The period between sunrise and sunset, when the sun peaks up over the horizon line then travels in an arc across the sky. It is warmer than it is at night and there is more food around, but animals are more easily spotted by predators in the light.

Animals and plants that are active in daytime are called DIURNAL.

Sunset

The sun sinks below the horizon line, causing light and warmth to fade.

DIURNAL animals and plants prepare to rest for the night.

Dusk

The sun lowers even more, even though we can't see it now. The sky grows darker but there is still a faint glow of light. This time of day is also known as twilight.

CREPUSCULAR animals and plants are active again.

Night

The period between dusk and dawn, when it is dark. The air is cool and more humid. There is less food around at night but under the cover of darkness animals can avoid getting caught by predators.

Animals that are active at night are called NOCTURNAL.

Tell Me About: The Human Body

Brilliant Body

So many amazing things are happening in your body right now! Let's take a look at just a few of them...

As you breathe, spongy bags called lungs are sucking air in and putting it into your blood.

When you run, stretchy cords called muscles pull bones back and forward. Your bones connect together in a structure called a skeleton. And your skin wraps everything up.

Tiny electrical signals are making your heart beat - to-beat-to-beat - to pump blood around your body.

Your body is made from lots of different parts that work together to do important jobs. These parts are called organs.

If you look at the pictures in this book, you're using organs called eyes. And when you think about all of this, you use an organ called the brain.

When you think or laugh or wiggle your toes, you use energy. The energy comes from the food you eat. The food goes into your blood and all around your body.

The Skin

Let's begin our body tour with your skin. This stretchy waterproof layer wraps around your body keeping germs out and keeping your insides... inside!

Your skin is full of sensors that help you to touch and feel things. You can feel pain and warmth and the tiny footpads of an insect crawling on your arm.

Did you know...? The skin is the biggest organ in the body!

Touch sensors help you to feel how hard to press when you lift it and hold objects - so you don't drop or squash them.

The top layer of your skin is dead! Underneath it, new skin is being made. It pushes the old skin upwards until it flakes off as dust. Yes, your skin becomes dust!

Your hair and nails are made from the same stuff as skin. It's called keratin.

Your skin cools your body too. One way it does this is by making little drops of liquid called sweat.

When sweat drops are warmed by a hot body, they float off into the air taking heat away with them!

Skeleton

The thing that gives your body its wonderful shape and height is a skeleton. It is made from 206 bones that join together at hinges called joints.

Full your fingers! The bones are the hard parts, and the joints are where your fingers bend.

Strong bony bones called cartilage make up some parts of the skeleton including your ears, your nose and sections of your ribs.

The skeleton protects your insides too. Your ribs make a cage around your lungs and heart and your skull is like a helmet, protecting your brain.

Inside your biggest bones is a juice called marrow. New blood is being made in the marrow. That's right, your bones can make blood!

Bones are full of tiny holes that make them light. But the pattern of the holes makes them really strong too.

Muscles

Muscles are stretchy cords that pull body parts to make them move. If you wiggle your eyebrows and stick out your tongue, you did it using muscles!

Muscles can pull, but they can't push so they need to work in teams. One muscle pulls a body part one way, and another muscle pulls it back again.

1. Bend your arm. The set of muscles at the front of your arm, called triceps, pulled it up by getting shorter.

2. Now straighten your arm. Another set of muscles at the back of your arm, called biceps, pulled your arm down to straighten it.

The muscles that move your bones around are called skeletal muscles. But they're not the only muscles you have!

Cardiac muscles make your heart squash to pump blood.

Smooth muscles line the tubes in your body. They help push things through the tubes.

Did you know...? Muscles help you hold in pee until you're ready to let it go.

Tell Me About: Planet Earth

Earth is Home

You live on a brilliant ball of spinning rock called Earth. It's a planet, travelling through space on a gigantic loop around a star called the Sun.

There's another ball of rock about a quarter of the size of Earth and you can see it in the night sky. It's called the Moon.

It takes a month for the Moon to travel around Earth on an oval path.

It takes a whole year to travel all the way around the Sun. So if you are five years old, you have circled the Sun five times already!

Earth travels around the Sun on an oval path but it also spins on the spot. The spin is why it gets dark at night.

Your home turns away from the Sun at night and by morning it has turned back towards the Sun once again. It takes 24 hours for a complete spin to happen, and we call that a whole day.

Caves

Caves are big holes carved into cliffs by waves hitting the rock. But they can also form underground as rain trickles through cracks in the rock.

That's right, tiny little rain droplets can make massive caves because they dissolve the rock away a little bit at a time.

Underground rivers flow through caves. They wear the floor of the cave down to make them even bigger.

Inside the cave, some droplets of rainwater evaporate. As the liquid water drops turn into gas, they leave behind the tiny bits of rock they were carrying. The bits of rock stick to the roof.

In a thousand years, all the drops of water will have left enough rock behind to make a shape about as long as your finger. This is called a stalactite.

The same thing happens as the water drops onto the floor of the cave too. The cave floor grows upwards into a wider opening, which is called a stalagmite.

Digging and Drilling

When humans dig useful rocks and metals out of the ground, it is called mining. People also drill long holes deep down into the rock to find little pockets of gas and a liquid called oil.

The oil and gas found deep underground were once tiny sea creatures. They sank to the bottom of the sea and got squashed over millions of years. They turned into a dark liquid called oil and a gas called methane.

Coal is a black rock that gives off lots of heat when it burns. It is made from leaves that took in swamps millions of years ago.

We can burn oil, coal and methane gas to make electricity and to power vehicles.

Most metals are hidden underground with other rocks. A few metals are found just as they are at the surface, including gold, silver and copper.

Metals can make lots of useful things including bikes, phones, computers and cars.

Oceans

If you flew out into space and looked back at Earth it would look blue. That's because two thirds of our planet's surface is covered in liquid water. It's mostly found in the oceans and seas.

Waves

Waves are made on the surface of the water as the wind pushes the sea.

Tides

The sea comes in at high tide and goes out at low tide. This happens twice every day because of the way Earth is spinning beneath the Moon.

That's right, the Moon makes our tides! Gravity is a pull that happens between Earth, the Moon and the Sun. It pulls on you too. When you jump, gravity pulls you back down to Earth.

Low tide

High tide

The oceans on planet Earth slowly change shape because the rock beneath them is moving. This creates underwater valleys, caves and mountains.

Mountain

Valley

Did you know...? Seawater is salty because of salt from rocks!

ALL ABOUT SOIL

Soil is the brown earth that plants grow in and it plays a very important role in supporting life on our planet. The best way to keep your plants happy is to take care of their soil!

Check a seed has sprouted, the soil helps to anchor the plant's roots in the ground. From here, the roots can absorb water, nutrients and minerals from the soil that help the plant to grow.

Soil is teeming with life. Did you know that there are more living things in a handful of soil than there are humans on earth? Look out for interesting organisms such as worms, fungi, insects and bacteria.

These organisms have special functions. Worms, for example, are little underground diggers. They move dirt through the soil's surface. This is called aerating. As they dig, they pump out what they have eaten, which is a valuable kind of food for the soil.

GET TO KNOW YOUR SOIL

Soil is not just dirt. It's a mix of different things, like sand, silt, clay, moisture and air. As a gardener, it's important to get to know your soil. If a plant is from a warm part of the world and you're growing it in a cool soil, it won't be happy! Similarly, a plant from a damp area won't like to grow in a sandy soil.

- Bring a shovel from pages 30-31. Collect a soil sample from your garden. Cut it to a depth of 10cm, because any bigger bits, like twigs or stones, could mess up your test.
- Seal it. Put 10g of soil into a jar. Put the lid on tightly and then give it a good shake. Let it settle for at least 24 hours to settle.
- You should now be able to see the different layers of your soil. The amount of soil in different layers and the texture when you touch it, tells you a lot about it. Use the soil to write up a garden log for your garden.

GARDEN FOES

Sometimes your garden might be visited by some not so welcome wildlife visitors - something that eats through your plants and oblittering weeds of hard work. Rather than using harmful chemical pesticides, there are some natural ways you can discourage any unwanted visitors to your garden.

ENCOURAGE BENEFICIAL ANIMALS

You can encourage beneficial creatures naturally by encouraging beneficial visitors such as ladybirds, bees, hoverflies, birds and frogs in your garden. The planting flowers that attract these insects, making a bug hotel or adding a bird feeder.

PEST REPELLENTS

To repel insects, you can make your own natural repellents using a mixture of water, garlic, onion and chili.

PROTECT PLANTS

Use netting to protect plants from birds and rabbits.

KEEP AN EYE OUT FOR PESTS

Slugs and snails can eat a whole batch of seedlings overnight. You can try adding a little slug bait, but be careful because they can be toxic to other animals. Remember to check your plants every day for signs of pests - gently washing them and watering them in another part of your garden.

RAVENS ARE ON THE LOOSE!

They are very noisy and can be very destructive to your plants. They can be very difficult to control. Remember to check your plants every day for signs of pests - gently washing them and watering them in another part of your garden.

PLANTS THAT HELP OTHER PLANTS

Did you know that certain plants can deter or encourage insects to your garden? Some particular plants together can also act as companions, attract bees and even help your tomatoes grow.

Some plants can deter insects. The longer these plants stay in the garden, the more they will help your plants.

Some plants can help other plants grow. They can be very helpful to your plants.

GROW CUPS OF NASTURTIUMS

Did you know that you can eat the petals from certain flowers? Nasturtiums are bright and colourful, and they have a little peppery taste. You can add them to a salad for a burst of extra flavour.

YOU WILL NEED:

- Old cups or tins
- Water
- Nasturtium seeds
- Wool

- In the bottom of each cup, add a layer of gravel. This is to allow the water to drain away from the roots because the cups do not have any drainage holes.
- Fill each cup with compost.
- Place a couple of holes in the compost and drop in the seeds.
- Cover with a little extra compost and add water to the cups and to the water tank above each cup.
- After a week or two, the seeds will start to shoot. When they are about 5cm tall, you can start to harvest them. They will be ready to eat in about 4-6 weeks.
- As the leaves grow, you can harvest them whenever you like. If you do on the plants, cut and place them off with a scissors. They will grow again.

WELCOME TO THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF GARDENING!

Whether you have a big garden or a small windowsill, you can make the world a greener place. Gardening is one of the best hobbies in the world and it's good for you, your neighbourhood and our planet! People have been gardening in one way or another for thousands of years, so you will be continuing a very long and important tradition.

In this book, you'll learn about how plants work, how to grow your own vegetables, how to encourage wildlife to your garden and why protecting plants is important for our lovely planet. Along the way, there will be plenty of activities and experiments for you to try for yourself - mostly using everyday materials you can find at home.

What are you waiting for? Let's begin!

THE FIRST RAILWAYS

Today, railways are commonplace in many parts of the world. They enable around one billion people, up across our continents, and transport goods and millions of passengers every single day. It is amazing to think that they have only been around for less than two hundred years.

Railways were first used before the first steam engines were invented. These 'hulks' appeared in Europe during the 17th century and were designed to haul heavy loads. They were made of wood and had a single set of wheels. The wheels were made of iron and were very heavy. The rails were made of wood and were also very heavy.

The first steam engines were used in Britain during the 17th century to pump water to water-lifting devices, and in 1802 the American Richard Trevithick built the first steam-powered locomotive.

Over the last few hundred years, the design of the steam engine has changed many times. The first steam engine was made by Thomas Newcomen in 1712. It was used to pump water out of mines. The next major improvement was made by James Watt in 1769. He added a separate condenser to the engine, which allowed it to run more efficiently. In 1825, George Stephenson designed the first steam locomotive, the 'Puffing Blower', which was used to haul coal from the mines to the railway.

THE GAUGE

One of the earliest uses of the railway was to haul heavy loads. The gauge is the distance between the rails. It is important to have the same gauge for all the rails. By using the same gauge, different rails can be used together. This has been the case since the first railways were built. The gauge is the distance between the rails. ## STEAM LOCOMOTIVES

Once the possibility of mass-produced engines had been realized, a whole host of locomotives were tried and tested around the world. Some proved to be better, others less suitable and some were dangerous, but the arrival of one revolutionary design changed the course of history. Another, designed by engineer Robert Stephenson (George Stephenson's son - see page 51) was to provide the principles of design for the rest of the steam locomotives that followed.

- RAILWAYS OF THE WORLD - THE FESTINIING RAILWAY

The Festiniog railway in North Wales is a marvel of 19th-century engineering. It was built in 1825 and is the only railway in the world that still uses the original steam locomotives. It was built in 1825 and is the only railway in the world that still uses the original steam locomotives.

ELECTRIC LOCOMOTIVES

The first electric train was tested as far back as 1837. Unlike steam trains, electric locomotives do not carry fuel on-board. Instead, they are powered by electricity which can be supplied from overhead lines, a third rail or in storage such as batteries. Because electric trains can be powered by renewable energy sources, they are considered less polluting than steam or diesel trains.

The first electric passenger train was presented by Werner von Siemens at an exhibition in Berlin in 1879. Consisting of a small locomotive and three cars, it reached a speed of just 13km/h.

The ETR 200 is a record-breaking electric passenger train. It is widely considered one of the first ever high-speed trains and was put into service in 1936. In 1938, it broke the speed record for trains by reaching just over 201km/h.

The ICE (Intercity Express) is one of Germany's most successful electric trains. The third generation ICE 3 can reach speeds of 300km/h. Since 2018, it has run on entirely renewable energy sources.

DIESEL LOCOMOTIVES

In a diesel locomotive, the power comes from an engine that burns diesel oil. While a steam locomotive needed two people to crew it and hours to attain the right steam pressure, a diesel locomotive could simply be switched on and driven away, making them much easier and much cheaper to run. Rudolf Diesel patented his first diesel engine in 1898, but it wasn't until around 1912 that they were first used in a locomotive.

The famous DRG Class SVT 877 Hamburg Flyer, often referred to as the 'Flying Hamburger', was first put into service in 1933. Its smooth, rounded shape was influenced by Zeppelin airships allowing for minimal air resistance.

The De10s, built in 1956, was considered the most powerful diesel locomotive in the world at that time.

The Hxdvity 125 is one of the most successful diesel trains of all time. So named because it was designed to cruise at 125 mph (about 201km/h) when in service, it also holds the all-time speed record for diesel trains of 238km/h, which it reached in 1987.

STEAM AND ELECTRIC AUTOMOBILES

Since their invention in the early 1800s, steam locomotives revolutionised the way people and freight were transported. However, some travellers wanted a more convenient vehicle that they didn't have to share and could use whenever they wanted. Some engineers created small, steam-powered road vehicles, while others decided to try electric battery automobiles. Many designs were created, but by the early 20th century it was clear that the internal combustion engine was going to be king of the road.

The first steam-powered road vehicle was designed by English inventor Richard Trevithick. Using a high-pressure boiler for more power, his Puffing Devil set off with six passengers in 1801 at a speed described by one witness as "faster than I could walk" (about 6km/h). Unfortunately, only a few days after this historic journey, the boiler caught fire and Puffing Devil was destroyed.

Electric cars were very popular in Europe and the USA from the late 1800s to the early 1900s. They were quieter and smoother, didn't produce smoke and were easier to use than steam-powered automobiles. One of the first successful models was the Flocken Elektrowagen. Designed in Germany in 1888, its 1hp electric motor drove the back wheels and could reach around 15km/h.

One of the last and most advanced steam automobiles was the Doble steam car. Designed in 1924, the Doble Model E only required 30 seconds to boil the water needed to drive the engine, was easy to control and could reach speeds as high as 120km/h.

EARLY ENGINES

The age of the automobile really began with the invention of the internal combustion engine. When fuels such as petrol, diesel or kerosene are burned (or 'combusted') inside the engine (using an oxidizer such as air), they produce kinetic energy, which makes the vehicle move. Internal combustion engines are more fuel-efficient than steam engines, and proved far easier and more convenient to start-up, operate and maintain.

German inventor Karl Benz developed the first automobile powered by an internal combustion engine in 1885. His revolutionary Motorwagen had a 5hp petrol engine, three-spoked wheels with solid rubber tyres and one forward gear. Its top speed was around 16km/h.

The first mass-produced car was the Oldsmobile Model R Curved Dash, 19,000 were built between 1901 and 1907. It was more affordable than most other cars at the time, had a 5hp engine, 2 forward and 1 reverse gear and came as either a 2-seater 'runabout' or a 4-seater family car.

Created in 1901 by German engineers Paul Daimler and Wilhelm Maybach as a racing car, the Mercedes 35 HP was a huge step forward in automobile design. It had a powerful petrol engine mounted at the front that drove the back wheels, a hand brake and a foot brake, 4 forward gears and 1 reverse gear.

PROSTHETIC LEGS THROUGH THE AGES

Roman Empire, 300 BC
The earliest example of a prosthetic leg is from the Roman Empire. These were made of wood and were attached to the leg with a metal ring. They were used for both military and civilian purposes.

Middle Ages, c. 1200
In the 13th century, a French inventor created a prosthetic leg made of wood and leather. It was attached to the leg with a metal ring and was used for both military and civilian purposes.

Victorian Era, 1800s
In the 19th century, prosthetic legs were made of wood and leather. They were attached to the leg with a metal ring and were used for both military and civilian purposes.

World War I, 1910s

BLAKE LEEPER

"Life is 10% what you deal with and 90% how you deal with it."

Retired American Paralympic athlete Blake Leeper was born in 1980 with both of his legs missing below the knee. Leeper's father was a coach, so he grew up with a natural affinity for sports. Leeper wanted to pursue a career in athletics, but a prosthetic leg made being that difficult for him to run and jump like the rest of the world.

Thanks to Leeper's hard work and determination and off, and he made his debut for the US Paralympic team in 2008. Since 2007, Leeper has won a total of eight Paralympic medals, including a gold medal for his country, and even set a world record in the 100m race in 2012. His remarkable achievements were made possible by Leeper's first coaching experience to compete against able-bodied Olympic athletes at the US Track & Field Championships.

Since Leeper's career since has been interrupted by controversy. In 2008, the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS) ruled that Leeper's coaching tactics made him several inches taller than if he were able-bodied, giving him an unfair advantage. However, his ruling has been considered controversial, and the outcome was calculated using the Maximum Allowable Standing Height (MASH) measurement. This approach uses standards based on body proportions that Leeper's huge frame didn't fit in the standard inclusion. Leeper, who is African American, illustrated that these standards do not represent his natural body proportions, and that the MASH system leaves his height calculations on unrelated photographs from a biased sample population.

For his bodybuilding and track career, Leeper has been a role model for many people. He has been a coach for several years and has been a part of the Paralympic team. He has also been a part of the Paralympic team. He has also been a part of the Paralympic team.

BEYOND BIONICS

So far, bionics has been playing catch-up with the body parts they are trying to emulate. While the devices available today have changed a lot, they are still not as smooth, functional, sensitive and efficient as the organs and limbs that bionics has promised. As we look at the next advancements that have been made since the start of the last century, we can be certain that technology will replace the human. Instead of giving them the capabilities we wish for, we will be creating a new kind of human. This one will be a lot more than what we are today.

Science and technology will continue to provide more options than ever before. More durable and better at copying what humans can do. But there may come a point where we will be able to create a new kind of human. For example, a child can be genetically altered and have something more than a human one. It could be changed and used for different purposes. But already bionics has been able to create things that are very hard or cold without damage to themselves, which humans cannot. A human leg can position itself on uneven ground without needing to be repositioned, but creating something of the sort is very difficult because of the human body's limitations. There is a lot of work to be done to create a new kind of human. This one will be a lot more than what we are today.

Looking further ahead, it could be possible to replace all of our body parts with bionics. Humans in the future could be one that is able to do things that we cannot do. They could be one that is able to do things that we cannot do. They could be one that is able to do things that we cannot do.

EYEWEAR

Eyeglasses may seem commonplace today, but it has taken hundreds of years to develop them to where they are now, helped by a series of inventions along the way. The ancient Romans first wrote about using glass beads to read, similar to how reading glasses work today. However, it was the Arab scientist Al-Hasan Ibn al-Haytham, a man known as the 'father of modern optics', who first wrote about using convex (outwards curved) lenses to magnify an image. Eventually, Ibn al-Haytham's literature made its way to Western Europe, and translations of his work led to glass 'reading stones' becoming common. The Italians improved further on these stones to create the first eyeglasses in the late 1200s.

New materials have allowed frames for glasses to become lighter and more durable. The colour of lenses has changed too, creating the first purpose-built sunglasses. These work by adding cerium oxide (a type of chemical compound) into the glass to filter out harmful ultraviolet light from the sun. Sunglasses quickly became fashionable, and in 1938, it was reported that 20 million sunglasses had been sold the year before in the US. Interestingly, only a quarter of those people needed sunglasses for medical reasons. This development is an example of a product that was initially designed to benefit a few but ended up benefitting many. It is testament to the importance of innovation within the disabled community.

The latest breakthrough in eyewear has come more recently, with EnChrome® glasses first launching in 2012. These special glasses are designed to help alleviate problems caused by colour-blindness.

People who are colour-blind find it difficult to distinguish between certain colours, such as red and green. EnChrome® glasses use the same principle as cerium oxide in the first sunglasses, but instead of filtering out harmful UV light, EnChrome® glasses filter out the wavelengths of light that get confused by the brain in those people with red-green colour vision deficiency.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF MONEY

Money serves because it is traded, but this trade doesn't come out of nowhere. It has to be based on something. There are several reasons why money might be valued. Some money is traded because it is made of something valuable, such as gold or silver. This is called commodity money. Another kind is traded because it represents something valuable. This is called representative money. A third kind is traded simply because a government tells it is valuable. This is called fiat money.

COMMODITY MONEY
The earliest form of commodity money was cowrie shells. They were small, round, and easy to carry. They were used in many parts of the world, including the Indian Ocean and the Mediterranean. Commodity money is made from things that have value on their own. It can be used to buy things, and it can be traded for other things. Commodity money is often used in places where there is no government or where the government is weak. It is also used in places where there is a lot of trade, such as in the Silk Road.

REPRESENTATIVE MONEY
The earliest form of representative money was gold coins. They were made of gold and had a picture of a ruler on them. They were used in many parts of the world, including the Roman Empire and the Islamic world. Representative money is made from things that have value on their own, but it is not the thing itself. It is a piece of paper or a metal coin that represents the thing. Representative money is often used in places where there is a strong government and a lot of trade.

FIAT MONEY
Fiat money is money that is made by a government. It is not made of anything valuable, and it does not represent anything valuable. It is just a piece of paper or a metal coin that a government says is worth a certain amount of money. Fiat money is the most common form of money in the world today. It is used in almost every country.

A WORLD WITHOUT MONEY

To understand why money is useful, let's try to imagine a world without money. In such a world, the only way to get hold of the things you need would be to make or grow them, or steal them from other people. These people are called barter. Barter is the exchange of goods or services for other goods or services without using money.

BARTER AND GIFTS
Barter is the exchange of goods or services for other goods or services without using money. It is often used in places where there is no money, such as in a village or a community. Barter is also used in places where there is money, but it is not the best way to trade. Barter is often used for things that are hard to trade for money, such as a car or a house.

THE PROBLEMS WITH BARTER
Barter has several problems. First, it is hard to find someone who has what you need and wants what you have. Second, it is hard to trade for things that are not needed at the same time. Third, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same place. Fourth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same quantity. Fifth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same quality. Sixth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same condition. Seventh, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same location. Eighth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same time. Ninth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same place. Tenth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same quantity. Eleventh, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same quality. Twelfth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same condition. Thirteenth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same location. Fourteenth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same time. Fifteenth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same place. Sixteenth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same quantity. Seventeenth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same quality. Eighteenth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same condition. Nineteenth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same location. Twentieth, it is hard to trade for things that are not in the same time.

CONSEQUENCE OF WANT
The consequence of want is that people will trade for things that they need. This is why money is useful. Money is a way to trade for things that you need. Money is a way to trade for things that you want. Money is a way to trade for things that you need. Money is a way to trade for things that you want. Money is a way to trade for things that you need. Money is a way to trade for things that you want.

WHAT MAKES A GOOD FORM OF MONEY?

The earliest forms of money were very different to the money we use today. There was no paper or printing process or machines to make metal coins. People had to make the things they traded by hand. The earliest forms of money were made of things that were easy to trade, such as cowrie shells, beads, and pieces of metal. The earliest forms of money were made of things that were easy to trade, such as cowrie shells, beads, and pieces of metal.

CONVULSIVE DISEASES
Convulsive diseases are diseases that cause a person to have seizures. They are often caused by a lack of oxygen to the brain. ## QUIRKY CURRENCIES

Many unusual objects were used as money in the era before notes and coins. These included foodstuffs such as barley, rice, corn and wheat. The Chinese used tea bricks to pay for things, whereas the Aztecs used cacao beans, and the peoples of ancient Africa and the Middle East measured value in coffee beans. The Mesopotamians kept sacks of grain in protected barns, much like the banks of today. When stored carefully, these foods could provide a reasonable store of value. But a storm or a bad harvest could wipe out your wealth.

MONEY YOU CAN EAT
Some surprising foods have been used as units of exchange in different parts of the world. Here are some of them.

BUTTER
The Pilgrims of the island of Madagascar used butter as a form of money. They used it to trade for things like food, clothing, and tools. Butter was a very important part of their diet and was easy to store and transport. Butter was also used to trade for things like medicine and food. ## POTATO MASHERS

In ancient Cameroon, potato mashers were used as a currency. These heavy iron objects, called ensusbas, were shaped like a club.

KISSI PENNIES
The kissi penny was a currency used mainly in West Africa in the first half of the twentieth century. They were long iron rods, usually arranged in bundles of twenty. A cow could be bought for 30 or 40 bundles.

IRON SNAKES
The Lobi tribe of Burkina Faso used iron snakes as a currency. They would also attach them to their calves as a protection from snake bites and lightning.

KNIVES
Large bronze knives circulated as currency in ancient China between 600 and 200 BCE. According to one story, this started when a prince who was running low on money to pay his troops allowed them to use their knives to pay for goods in the local village.

RAI STONES
The small Pacific island of Yap possesses the world's biggest money. Rai stones are huge discs of rock weighing up to 8 tonnes each. The stones are rarely moved, and are not used for day-to-day transactions, but they change hands as ceremonial gifts, to forge alliances, resolve conflicts or to apologise for wrongdoing.

Art is Everywhere

A playful introduction to art history.

- Growing demand for children's art books that aren't biography or activity
- Fresh, inspiring take on a strong topic
- Highly accessible angle - discusses ideas and techniques that can be applied to art anywhere and everywhere
- Author is a knowledgeable art historian with a witty, unique tone, and years of experience with leading art workshops for children
- Both UK and international sales have seen demand for more 'art' titles. A great opportunity for us to show support for suffering creative arts scene and fill a gap on our list.
- Subjects covered - Why Do we Make Art?, Brush Strokes, Patterns, The Power of Colour, Art Can be Anything, Symbols

Art is Everywhere

This is Keith, a world-renowned art historian. Keith also happens to be an ostrich.

This is my hat. Rather pink, isn't it?

Art history is quite a good term. If you like when you see it, you can add in your own history too. Art historians like Keith study works of art and explain how their meanings have changed throughout history.

This is Keith's beloved research assistant, Marwan.

SO WHAT IS ART?

Art has been around for hundreds of thousands of years. Every time someone makes a piece of art, they add to the world's collection. It can come from their hands and feelings, or perhaps a moment in time. Keith's favourite thing about art is that everyone sees it slightly differently. Every time someone looks at a piece of art, it gets a brand new meaning.

Art can be made out of paint or pencil, clay or stone, or made and then it's about anything at all. Art is all around us and it's used for all sorts of things... and it's not always to look beautiful!

Many people in the past said that ostriches can't be art historians. Keith sure showed them!

Perhaps you'd like to know a bit more about where Keith is from. Oh yes, though when you are from isn't the most interesting thing about you. The most interesting thing about you is where you are FROM.

Art has the power to transport you anywhere - from the streets of Venice to outer space!

After all, art isn't just in GALLERIES... it is everywhere, all around us. It's in our streets, in our homes and in our dreams.

It's not just LIFE-LIKE... it can also be abstract, quiet, imaginary or surreal.

It's not just BEAUTIFUL... it can be confusing, silly, sad, funny and even thought-provoking!

It's not just for EXPERTS... but for people of all ages to enjoy and interpret.

But we are getting ahead of ourselves! Keith decided the time had come to write this book when a certain incident occurred...

"This isn't what art is about," Keith thought as she left the gallery.

The really exciting thing about art isn't standing in a room to look at one famous painting. The exciting thing about art is the way it makes you feel and the things it can show you.

Art is a language, just like English and Spanish and Vietnamese (Vietnam) and it can tell you stories through its lines, patterns and colours. The trick is learning how to recognise what art is trying to show you!

"Art is everywhere and for everyone to enjoy. And I'm going to prove it," said Keith to Marwan.

You can find art in all sorts of places - it can be over your head and under your feet. In fact, one of the earliest forms of art we know of was painted a couple of 40,000 years ago by early humans! You can still see their paintings of animals and patterns in caves today.

One very special thing about these paintings is the way the artists have managed to show the animals with just a few lines - showing the shape of the animal's shape. Even thousands of years later, artists are still trying to do the same thing. What kind of shapes can you make with one line?

The INCIDENT was this.

Keith was in a big gallery somewhere, looking at the artwork on display. There were a lot of other people doing the same thing. I mean A LOT. With some pieces of art, you even had to wait your turn to look! And then Keith noticed something.

There were hundreds, there were THOUSANDS of beautiful, gorgeous, sumptuous pieces of art. Art as far as the eye could see! But the people visiting the gallery were only looking at the art that they were told to look at, or at the pieces that they recognised. They took a photograph, and then they quickly moved on.

Keith tried to get the crowd's attention to show them the many other marvellous paintings, sculptures, pots and textiles, but they ignored her. This made Keith rather angry.

How Many Ways Can You Cook An Egg?

Apple and Sultana Pancakes with Cinnamon Butter

MAKES 8 PANCAKES
 1 cup (250 ml) plain flour
 1 egg
 1/2 cup (125 ml) milk
 1/2 cup (125 ml) sultanas
 1/2 cup (125 ml) raisins
 1/2 cup (125 ml) sugar
 1/2 cup (125 ml) butter, melted
 1/2 cup (125 ml) cinnamon
 1/2 cup (125 ml) vanilla extract
 1/2 cup (125 ml) salt

These warm, fluffy pancakes are not only great with apples, but you can also mix them with other fruits to match the season. Puffed pancakes, baked overnight, become a natural choice with sultanas – once you know the texture of these sultanas is possible, you can really branch out. Experiment with different types in the future too, like raisins or ground ginger.

1. In a bowl, mix the flour, sugar, cinnamon, and salt.
2. In another bowl, whisk the egg, milk, and melted butter.
3. Pour the wet ingredients into the dry ingredients and mix well.
4. Add the sultanas and raisins to the batter.
5. Heat a pan with a little oil and cook the pancakes for 2-3 minutes on each side.
6. Serve with cinnamon butter.

Apple, Onion and Sage Relish

MAKES A LITTLE BIT OF RELISH
 1 onion, finely chopped
 1 apple, finely chopped
 1/2 cup (125 ml) vinegar
 1/2 cup (125 ml) sugar
 1/2 cup (125 ml) oil
 1/2 cup (125 ml) salt
 1/2 cup (125 ml) sage leaves, finely chopped

The character of the Honeybees helps to perfect the accompanying rich flavors, such as onions, sage, vinegar and sweet work. This relish which also works wonderfully with black pudding and mussels, which are really beautiful and warm with onions. This relish can also be cooked 'just using the Honeybees' with a more appropriate Honeybees or Mustard, and even on a low heat with a drop of water for a softer, jammy sauce. It's the perfect accompaniment to a lovely Sunday roast with all the fixings!

1. Add the onion to a bowl and chop it into small pieces.
2. Add the apple to the bowl and chop it into small pieces.
3. Add the vinegar, sugar, oil, and salt to the bowl.
4. Mix everything together well.
5. Add the sage leaves and mix well.

SWEETCORN FRITTERS

MAKES 10 FRITTERS
 1 cup (250 ml) plain flour
 1 egg
 1/2 cup (125 ml) milk
 1/2 cup (125 ml) sugar
 1/2 cup (125 ml) butter, melted
 1/2 cup (125 ml) vanilla extract
 1/2 cup (125 ml) salt
 1/2 cup (125 ml) sweetcorn kernels
 1/2 cup (125 ml) raisins

Get ready for a bit of fun in the kitchen! They are super adaptable and you can try many many variations to get the combination you like. For example, swap powder for cornstarch if you're not keen, or add a pinch of salt if you feel like you need some heat. Don't forget to mix the batter well. The batter can be kept in the fridge for up to 24 hours. Sweetcorn fritters are a lovely snack and you can make them with whatever you like. Try adding some cheese or some other things to make them your own.

1. In a large mixing bowl, add the flour, sugar, and salt.
2. In another bowl, whisk the egg, milk, and melted butter.
3. Pour the wet ingredients into the dry ingredients and mix well.
4. Add the sweetcorn kernels and raisins to the batter.
5. Heat a pan with a little oil and cook the fritters for 2-3 minutes on each side.

MEXICAN STREET CORN

MAKES 10 CORN COPS
 10 ears of corn
 1/2 cup (125 ml) butter, melted
 1/2 cup (125 ml) sugar
 1/2 cup (125 ml) salt
 1/2 cup (125 ml) chili powder
 1/2 cup (125 ml) cumin
 1/2 cup (125 ml) paprika
 1/2 cup (125 ml) onion powder
 1/2 cup (125 ml) garlic powder
 1/2 cup (125 ml) black pepper

This is a wonderful way to eat corn – really, once you know how to cook it. It's a bit of a challenge, but once you've got the hang of it, it's really not that hard. You can make it with whatever you like, and you can make it as spicy as you like. It's a great snack and you can make it with whatever you like. Try adding some cheese or some other things to make it your own.

1. Boil the corn for 10 minutes.
2. Drain the corn and let it cool.
3. Mix the butter, sugar, salt, and spices in a bowl.
4. Brush the mixture onto the corn.
5. Bake the corn in the oven for 10 minutes.

All About Apples

Although some apples are in season all year round, many of them are at their best when the leaves on the trees start to turn brown and the temperature cools. Crunchy, shiny, crisp, juicy apples make a welcome change to the often heavy, warming food of the colder months. But apples baked into pies and puddings are soft and comforting and are a delicious way to greet the autumn season.

Experiment with combining a couple of different apples when cooking for more interesting flavours. If you're able, shopping at loose-pick green-grocers means you can buy a wider variety.

MOST TART
 Bramley, Granny Smith

MOST SWEET
 Royal Gala, Golden Delicious

Other varieties shown include: Pink Lady, Red Prince, Jazz, Egremont Pippin, Cook, Braeburn.

To get the best from your apples when cooking, you need to get to grips with their individual flavours and textures. Hard, dense Bramley or Braeburn apples hold on to their juices well, so they are best-suited to chopping and cooking until soft. Perky Cox or Gala apples are sweet and fragrant, so they are great for snacking on, or adding raw to salads or bircher muesli.

DO YOU KNOW?
 The world's heaviest apple was recorded in 2002 in Japan, weighing an enormous 2.4kg (5lb 2oz). That's three times heavier than a basketball!

Tales from Beyond the Stars

starting towards Kensington Gardens, wondering at this strange, red-dusted walling. It was as if that mighty desert of houses had found a voice for its fear and solitude.

Drawn by the sound, I crossed the river at Waterloo Bridge, littered with corpses, and wandered on through the silent streets until I came out at last upon Regent's Park. And as I emerged from the top of Baker Street, I saw far away over the trees in the clearness at the sunset the hood of the Martian giant from which this howling proceeded. I was not terrified. I came upon him as if it were a matter of course. The tripod did not move. The Martian appeared to be standing and yelling, for no reason that I could discover.

Regents canal was choked with the red weed, and it had spread across the grasses and was growing amongst the trees, a spongy mass of dark-red vegetation. As I stood watching, the sound of "Ulla, ulla, ulla, ulla," ceased. Cut off. The silence came like a thunderclap.

A terror seized me. The dusky houses about me stood faint and tall and dim; the trees in the park were growing black. Night, the mother of fear and mystery, was coming down.

I fled. In front of me the road became pitch black as though it were covered in tar, and I saw a contorted shape lying across the pathway. I could not bring myself to go on. I turned down St. John's Wood Road and ran headlong from this unendurable stillness towards Kilburn. I hid from the night and the silence, until long after midnight, in a cabmen's shelter in Harrow Road.

Before the dawn my courage returned, and while the stars were still in the sky I turned once more towards Regent's Park. I had to know what had happened to the tripod.

As I drew nearer and the light grew, I saw that a multitude of black birds was circling and clustering about the hood. At that my heart gave a bound, and I began running along the road.
