How To Draw Pets

Heads, paws and claws

Pets have many different types of heads, paws and claws. Studying and sketching the detailed features of a pet will help you with your final drawings.

Quick pencil sketches can help you to understand the structure of paws and claws.

Look for areas where hair should be darker and also for changes of texture.

The more you study a subject and your final drawing is the more accurate your drawing will become.

Always consider the light source and add tone to the darker areas.

10

Using photos

Drawing from photographs of pets can help you develop both your drawing skills and your eye for detail.

Make a tracing of a photograph and line up a grid of squares over it.

Light source

To render your drawing with shading, draw a grid over the light source and divide it into squares. Then, add a grid of squares over the drawing. This will help you to see where the light source is and how to use it.

Hand in an overall drawing and add connecting lines to create a rough sketch. The position of your drawing on the page will affect the composition.

Dog

Dogs are often kept as domestic pets but some, like sheepdogs, are used for work.

Draw a circle for the head. These two circles help you to sketch the shape of the front legs and the chest for the shape of the hind legs.

Add a curved line for the neck.

Sketch a construction line to show the backline.

Draw the shape of the tail with curved lines.

Sketch in the dark areas of fur, helping to define the shape of the dog's body.

Draw the dog's ears, adding to the neck and head.

Start to add fur to the body.

Add lines to the front of the dog for paws.

Sketch in the dark areas of the dog's fur, helping to define the shape of the dog's body.

Sketch in the dark areas of the dog's fur, helping to define the shape of the dog's body.

14

Rabbit

Rabbits are popular pets that are usually kept outside in a hutch.

Draw a circle for the head and two ovals for the shoulders and rear.

Head

Shoulders

Rear

Draw two long connecting curved lines.

Add two front legs using straight lines, and use half circles for the front paws.

Sketch in the basic shape of the rear legs and paws.

Position the rabbit's ears on its head.

Sketch in the rabbit's muzzle using straight lines.

Add a little round tail.

Add the head details: draw in the ears, eyes, small nose and mouth.

Add tone to the rabbit's body to give the impression of fur.

Add shading to areas where the light would not reach.

Composition

By framing your drawing with a square or a rectangle you can make it look completely different.

This drawing of a rabbit from a different angle shows all the construction lines used.

How To Draw Fantasy Art

Drawing materials

Try using different types of drawing paper and materials. Experiment with charcoal, wax crayons and pastels. All pens, from felt-tips to ballpoints, will make interesting marks - or try drawing with pen and ink on wet paper.

Pencil is the most common drawing tool. Add an eraser to your pencil and change with different pencils to create different effects. You can use special effects by creating some parts of a drawing first with wax crayons.

Sketching is a kind of drawing that normally uses black ink.

Charcoal is very soft and malleable and is used for quick sketches. Add an eraser to your charcoal drawing with a piece of paper to prevent smudging.

Wax crayons are used to create some parts of a drawing first with wax crayons.

Ballpoint pen is a good choice for fine lines. You can create fine lines with a ballpoint pen. It is also good for creating some parts of a drawing first with wax crayons.

Character proportions

This page shows some of the more popular fantasy figures and their proportions compared to a normal human figure. On average, the length of a human head should fit eight times into its body length. When you draw a fantasy figure anything goes - so let your imagination go wild.

Draw these simple figures to help you choose a good position for your character. You can create a figure of a character by using different poses or stances.

Man beasts

Combining a human figure with an animal's head can create a great hybrid monster. You can get inspiration by drawing from life models. Photos from sports movies and figure reference manuals are a good source too. Why not try putting a snake or insect's head on a human body - see what you can create!

Wolf is a good choice for a man-beast. A wolf's head is a good choice for a man-beast. A wolf's head is a good choice for a man-beast.

Dragon is a good choice for a man-beast. A dragon's head is a good choice for a man-beast. A dragon's head is a good choice for a man-beast.

Amazon warrior

Sketch cylinder shapes for each arm which join at the elbow.

Add the basic shape of the hand.

Draw in ovals for the head, neck, body and hips.

Draw a long curved line to start the position of the body.

Legs: add the curved lines of the upper and lower leg, indicating the knee joint.

Add the foot shape and direction.

Draw in the boots shapes.

Add the sword using straight lines.

Sketch in the position of the ears, nose and mouth.

Sketch in the shape of the hair mass.

Indicate the position and shape of the breasts.

Add the costume's draped cloth using simple lines.

Finish the detail on the sword. Small broken lines give the impression of shining metal.

Add shape, tone and details to the hair.

Draw in bracelets and armbands.

Add tone to the legs.

Draw in the top of the costume.

Complete the details on the boots.

Add shade to areas where the light would not reach.

Drawing materials

Try using different types of drawing paper and materials. Experiment with charcoal, wax crayons and pastels. All pens, from felt-tips to ballpoints, will make interesting marks - or try drawing with pen and ink on wet paper.

Small Drawings can include a vast amount of detail and focus. They're especially good for different grades of pencil to get a range of light and dark effects in your drawing.

Pen and ink Remember the best equipment and materials will not necessarily make the best drawing - only practice will!

Ballpoint pens Add light and dark to a drawing with an ink pen can be tricky. You will need to be very confident about the lines you draw and the way you use the pen. It's best to practice with the pen before using it for a drawing.

Charcoal Charcoal is a drawing material that can be used to create a wide range of tones and textures. It's best to practice with charcoal before using it for a drawing.

Wax crayons Wax crayons can be used to create a wide range of colors and textures. They're especially good for different grades of color to get a range of light and dark effects in your drawing.

Pastels Pastels can be used to create a wide range of colors and textures. They're especially good for different grades of color to get a range of light and dark effects in your drawing.

Christmas alphabet

It is fun to create your own hand-drawn lettering. Here is an example of how to design a job, Christmas-themed alphabet. Use it for cards, invitations and posters, or use it to spell out someone's name to personalise special gifts.

There are some ideas for a Christmas-themed alphabet.

N P The numbers one line to accurately proportion one letter to another.

E E You can create a wide variety of different Christmas letters, such as a gift-wrapped letter or a letter with a Christmas tree.

Santa Claus' sleigh

The modern idea of Santa's sleigh and the names of his reindeer comes from the poem The Night Before Christmas. It was originally published anonymously in 1823 in the New York Sentinel. Rudolph was not invented until 1939, when he featured in a booklet that was sold at Montgomery Ward department stores.

Start by drawing a rectangle for Santa's sleigh. Add a curved position line for the reindeer's harness.

Draw the curved upper edges of the sleigh, its carriage and corners.

Use the construction lines to evenly position the reindeer. Draw in the small circles for their snouts, bodies and legs with curved lines for hooves.

Draw in the reindeer's necks, harnesses and bell collars.

Use the drawing to create Santa Claus and his reindeer. Add shading to the back view of reindeer legs.

Perspective

If you look at anything from different viewpoints, you will see that the part that is closest to you looks larger, and the part furthest away from you looks smaller. Drawing in perspective is a way of creating a feeling of space - of showing three dimensions on a flat surface.

The vanishing point (VP) is the place in a perspective drawing where parallel lines appear to meet. The position of the vanishing point depends on the viewer's eye level.

Two-point perspective uses two vanishing points, one for lines running along the length of the subject, and one on the opposite side for lines running across the width of the subject.

How To Draw Caricatures

Different treatments

Changing one feature can completely transform a face. For example, the size and shape of a chin can make a character look more or less bold. Superheroes often have large, pronounced chins, representing strength and power.

Amplify prominent features.

Add some detail to the face including bigger nose, hair, wrinkles, lines, creases, shading to make eye darker areas.

Exaggerate the top and base of the nose, elongate the forehead and chin. There is little facial furrows.

Draw the forehead. It has been considerably stretched and would add extra age to the character.

The nose and size of the chin make the face look grumpy and full of pain.

Sampled character
You can create a caricature using any odd idea. The longer it is, the more you can exaggerate facial features.

Insulting vs complimenting

The angles and facial expressions chosen can radically change the look of a caricature to create an insulting or a complimentary expression of character or personality.

Good features are the best. Exaggerate or make them deeper, pointed, or wider.

Henry VIII was the King of England between the years of 1509 and 1547. He had a very large nose.

Draw the drawing as you see it. All you need is a line drawing. The nose is the key feature.

Exaggerate the nose and chin. The nose is the key feature. The chin is the key feature.

Draw the nose and chin. The nose is the key feature. The chin is the key feature.

Think drawing the facial features and not the head. Make sure the features are the same and not the head.

Macaroni

In the mid-18th century, certain well-to-do men would dress in high-fashion clothes and wear large powdered wigs. They were known as macaroni and made great subjects for caricature.

Great exaggerate the height of the hair. There are wigs on high. The hair is the key feature.

Draw the hair and the nose. The hair is the key feature. The nose is the key feature.

Looking like your pet

Scientists have found that we deliberately choose pets that look similar to us! Comparing owner and pet can be a fun caricature exercise, particularly if you exaggerate one common feature.

It's easier to choose just one similar feature to distort - large teeth or nose shapes both work very well.

Think about your composition. By placing both characters face to face, their features are mirrored, making the similarity more obvious.

Draw in a basic oval and construction lines as a guide.

For the owner, roughly sketch in the eyes, eyebrows, ears, nose and mouth. The dog's features will have exactly the same placement.

Exaggerate the features so that the facial creases will match up with the dog's saggy jaws.

When drawing the noses, make them both of a similar shape and size.

Finish off both caricatures by completing all details.

Add tone, shading in areas where light does not reach.

How To Draw Planes

Fokker DR1 Triplane

Triplanes have three sets of wings. One of the most famous triplanes was the Fokker Drivector (DR1), used by Germany in WW1 to battle the British Sopwith triplane. It had a single pilot and was armed with two machine guns. Its most famous pilot was Baron Manfred von Richthofen.

Draw a simple fuselage and tail. Add a horizontal line for the fuselage. Add a vertical line for the tail. Add three sets of wings, one above the other. Add a tail fin. Add a propeller. Add a cockpit.

The DR1 was a difficult aircraft to fly and was regarded as a machine only for the experienced pilot.

Background
The DR1 was designed by the German engineer Hans Breda. It was the first triplane to be used in combat. It was used by the German ace Baron Manfred von Richthofen. The DR1 was the first triplane to be used in combat. It was used by the German ace Baron Manfred von Richthofen.

Supermarine S6B

The Supermarine S6B Seaplane became the fastest aircraft on Earth in September 1931 when it achieved a record-breaking speed of 656 km/h.

Draw a simple fuselage and tail. Add a horizontal line for the fuselage. Add a vertical line for the tail. Add a propeller. Add a cockpit. Add a tail fin. Add a tail boom. Add a tail boom. Add a tail boom.

The S6B was designed by the British engineer Royce Barrington Wallis. It was the first seaplane to be used in combat. It was used by the Royal Navy.

Light and dark
When drawing a seaplane, use light lines for the fuselage and dark lines for the wings and tail.

Airbus A380

The double-decker Airbus A380 is able to carry up to 853 passengers, making it the world's largest passenger-carrying airliner.

Draw a simple fuselage and tail. Add a horizontal line for the fuselage. Add a vertical line for the tail. Add a propeller. Add a cockpit. Add a tail fin. Add a tail boom. Add a tail boom.

Think 3-D
When drawing a 3D object, use light lines for the front and dark lines for the back.

Sketching

We can't always rely on our memories, so it's important to look around and find real-life things to draw. Taking a sketchbook with you wherever you go is one of the best ways to improve your drawing skills. Learn to observe objects carefully: notice how they move, how they're made, and how they work. What you draw should be based on what you've seen.

Sketching
A sketch that has taken a short time can say as much as a careful drawing that has taken many hours.

Sketching models
Try drawing model planes. It will be good practice for seeing and observing. The larger the model is, the better it is to draw because its proportions are better.

Aviation museums are filled with many different types of plane from past and present.

You will be able to walk all the way around many of the planes and see them from different perspectives.

TATTOOS

In the early nineteenth century over 90 per cent of all sailors sported a tattoo. They marked milestones in a sailor's voyage and served as reminders of the places they had been. But mainly, tattoos were believed to be good luck talismans.

Spot the only tattoo opposite that matches this one above.

HOW TO DRAW A PIRATE CAPTAIN

Copy this step-by-step pencil drawing

Use simple ovals to draw in the main shapes of Blackbeard's head. Add construction lines for his pirate hat.

Draw in more details like the skin on his hat, his eyes, eyebrows, nostrils, ears and nostrils. Finally add his teeth and draw in the hairs of his beard.

Start drawing in his hat and his facial features.

Add Blackbeard's eyepatch, beard and moustache.

Use a soft pencil to build up tone by crosshatching.

BATTLESHIPS

YOU WILL EACH NEED:
2 grids (see page 81)
A black pen
A red pen

BATTLESHIP RULES (2 PLAYERS)

- Both players have two grids. Each player must secretly place (either horizontally or vertically) a Square rigger, a Brigantine, a Schooner and two Sloops on one grid. Use the key below to see how many squares each type of ship should fill.
- Players take turns to call out a 'co-ordinate' (a letter and a number) to guess where their opponent's ships are placed. Your opponent checks their grid, and shouts 'hit' if you have guessed correctly and 'miss' if not.
- Keep a record of all your guessed co-ordinates on your spare grid. Use black for a 'miss' and red for a 'hit'.
- The first player to sink all his enemy's ships is the winner.

ON THE LEVEL

If you pour water into a series of tubes that are connected together, the water finds the same level in all the tubes.

All tubes connected to jar A should have water reaching the same level as in jar A. All tubes connected to jar B should have the same water level as jar B.

But some of these tubes have been drawn wrongly! Can you find which tubes contain water at the wrong level?

HINT: It will help if you colour all the tubes connected to jar A red, and all the tubes connected to jar B blue.

TRICKS WITH LIGHT

Optical illusions are tricks that fool the eye. They make you see something that's not really there.

Hold the book up in front of you and tilt it to the left or right. What happens to the curved lines in the drawing below?

Can you see a triangle here? There isn't one in the drawing!

Stare very hard at the picture below, then slowly move it towards and away from you. What happens?

Are the sides of the square straight or curved? Check with a ruler.

Are the horizontal lines level or slanting?

PUT THE FISH IN THE BOWL

1. Trace the fish and bowl onto card. Colour them in, then cut out the two circles.

2. Tape the two pictures to a pencil, so both pictures face out.

3. Spin the pencil between your hands. Can you see the fish in the bowl?

DID YOU KNOW? Optical illusions aren't just for fun - they help scientists to understand how the eyes and brain work together.

GERMINATION

Most plants grow from seeds. If you plant a seed in a moist, sunny place it will start to germinate (sprout).

The tough seed coat splits open (1). First, a little root grows downwards (2), so the plant can take in water. Then, a little green shoot begins to grow upwards towards the sky (3). The new plant spreads its leaves in the light (4).

You can plant bean sprouts yourself and see how fast they grow!

BEANPROOF MAZE
Help the new shoot find its way through the soil towards the light.

RISING AIR

When air is heated it rises. This is what makes a hot-air balloon rise. Air spirals upwards in currents called thermals where the sun heats the air near the ground.

This experiment uses the warm air from a radiator.

Colour the snakes, then cut them out to make a spiral. Gently pull the head and tail apart. Use scissors to make a hole in the nose, and attach a string. Hang the snakes over a radiator and watch them spin around!

The Incredible Voyage

When it seemed that Sophie and Bird had found the way out of the forest, they stepped onto a nest and found a hole in the ground. Sophie and Bird were amazed. Sophie passed around Sophie's second-edition library with Sophie's red and blue shelves were connected by 100 red ladders and all the very end was an interesting one.

Help Sophie find her way to the nest and Bird to the nest.

Help Sophie find her way to the nest and Bird to the nest.

Huge trees loomed on the hills and the birds were so excited that they began to fly and began flying around. But the answer couldn't be the same. Sophie thought, thinking that there must be someone else who would be able to help Sophie and Bird.

With bellies full of yummy raspberry jellybeans, Sophie and Bird adventured on, following the path marked on the map. Soon, they emerged on a gathering of enormous wandering stones. Even worse, the stones were completely blocking their path!

Quick! Hide yourself!

Who are they? And why do we need to hide?

They are the stone giants. They never usually bother anyone... until now. That is. One of them has become terribly unpleasant! It was the same one that trapped me under the glass cover and accused me of stealing, although I certainly didn't do anything like that.

Oh dear, we must watch out for that one. Which of the stone giants was it?

It's the one that looks different from this rock drawing. Its anger has changed how it looks!

Spot the stone giant that looks different from their drawing on the tablet. Make sure to check their shape and expression! Point them out for Sophie and Bird to avoid.
