TAKE A BREATH!

Try this breathing exercise to help you relax:

STEP 1

Make sure you are sitting comfortably in a quiet and safe place. When you feel ready, close your eyes. Notice your breathing. Think about how it feels breathing in and breathing out. Try to breathe in through your nose and out through your mouth.

STEP 2

Place your hand on your tummy and focus on the feeling of your stomach rising and falling with each breath. When you breathe in, quietly say 'in' to yourself, and when you breathe out, quietly say 'out' to yourself.

STEP 3

Concentrate on nothing but your breathing and try to let go of any other thoughts you may have.

When you've had lots of practice at the breathing exercise, see if you can think about a happy memory at the same time. This way, your happy memory will take up all the space in your brain, and there won't be any room for the worries.

Perspective

If you look at any object from different viewpoints, you will see that the part that is closest to you looks larger, and the part furthest away from you looks smaller. Drawing in perspective is a way of creating a feeling of space - of showing three dimensions on a flat surface.

Two-point perspective drawing. The vanishing point (VP) is the point in the distance where the lines of the object appear to meet. The position of the vanishing point depends on the viewer's eye level. In this example, a low eye level creates a sense of looking up at the horse, while a high eye level creates a sense of looking down at it.

Rats

Animals like rats make great cartoon characters. You can give them personalities and expressions just as you can with your cartoon people.

Start by drawing a simple oval for the head. Then, draw a curved line for the body. Add a small circle for the eye and a line for the ear. Use lines for the body with dots to indicate joints. Add a small circle for the tail. The rat is now ready for the final details. Add a small circle for the eye and a line for the ear. Use lines for the body with dots to indicate joints. Add a small circle for the tail. The rat is now ready for the final details.

Bulldog

The bulldog is a classic cartoon character. Its face is perfect for a grumpy expression, which usually gives it a character all of its own.

Start by drawing a large oval for the head. Then, draw a small circle for the eye. Add a line for the snout and a small circle for the ear. Use lines for the body with dots to indicate joints. Add a small circle for the tail. The bulldog is now ready for the final details. Add a small circle for the eye and a line for the ear. Use lines for the body with dots to indicate joints. Figure work

Adding clothes to a figure can help to define the character. This figure is dressed as a Victorian maid.

Start by sketching these simple shapes for the figure. Draw an oval for the head. Add ovals for the body and hips. Draw straight lines to connect the ovals and show the positions of the limbs. Indicate the joints with dots. Draw tube shapes for the arms, using your construction lines as a guide. Draw two shapes for the feet. Add a small circle for the position of the big toe. This will help you draw the shoes.

Adding more facial features and draw in the shape of the face, using the construction lines as a guide. Sketch in the hair and add the cap. Draw the shape of the clothes going around the body. Sketch in the dress using curved lines. Add details such as cuffs, buttons and a collar. The hem of the dress covers part of the feet. Add lines to the apron and at the bottom of the dress to show folds in the material. Two parallel lines show the soles of the shoes. Try drawing these hand gestures.

Finish the head by adding the hair and eyelashes. Shade above the eyes and inside the ear.

Character proportions

This page shows some of the more popular fantasy figures and their proportions compared to a normal human figure. On average, the length of a human head should fit eight times into its body length. When you draw a fantasy figure anything goes - so let your imagination go wild.

Draw these simple figures to help you choose a good position for your character. You can replicate the position of a character for easy character poses and sketches.

Man beasts

Combining a human figure with an animal's head can create a great hybrid monster. You can get inspiration by drawing from life models. Photos from sports movies and figure reference manuals are a good source too. Why not try putting a snake or rabbit's head on a human body - see what you can create!

Amazon warrior

This powerful female figure is a classic action fantasy character. She must look strong and powerful but retain her femininity and beauty.

Sketch cylinder shapes for each arm which join at the elbow.

Add the basic shape of the hand.

Legs: add the curved lines of the upper and lower leg, indicating the knee joint.

Add the foot shape and direction.

Add the sword using straight lines.

Sketch in the position of the ears, nose and mouth.

Sketch in the shape of the hair mass.

Indicate the position and shape of the breasts.

Adding light and shade to a drawing with an ink pen can be tricky. Use solid ink for the very darkest areas and cross-hatching for ordinary dark tones. Use hatching for midtones, and leave the white of the paper for the lightest areas.

Christmas alphabet

It is fun to create your own hand-drawn lettering. Here is an example of how to design a jolly Christmas-themed alphabet. Use it for cards, invitations and posters, or use it to spell out someone's name to personalise special gifts.

Alphabet

The construction lines to accurately proportion our letters is given in your alphabet.

You can create a wide variety of different Christmas themes, such as a gift-wrapped letter or a snow-capped brick letter, as shown in these two examples of the letter W.

Here are some ideas for a Christmas-themed alphabet:

Santa Claus' sleigh

The modern idea of Santa's sleigh and the names of his reindeer, comes from the poem The Night Before Christmas. It was originally published anonymously in 1823 in the New York Sentinel. Rudolph was not invented until 1939, when he featured in a booklet that was sold at Montgomery Ward department stores.

ON THE LEVEL

If you pour water into a series of tubes that are connected together, the water finds the same level in all the tubes.

But some of these tubes have been drawn wrongly! Can you find which tubes contain water at the wrong level?

HINT: It will help if you colour all the tubes connected to jar A red, and all the tubes connected to jar B blue.

All tubes connected to jar A should have water reaching the same level as in jar A. All tubes connected to jar B should have the same water level as jar B.

TRICKS WITH LIGHT

Optical illusions are tricks that fool the eye. They make you see something that's not really there.

Hold the book up in front of you and tilt it to the left or right. What happens to the curved lines in the drawing below?

Can you see a triangle here? There isn't one in the drawing!

Stare very hard at the picture below, then slowly move it towards and away from you. What happens?

Are the sides of the square straight or curved? Check with a ruler.

Are the horizontal lines level or slanted?

PUT THE FISH IN THE BOWL

1. Trace the fish and bowl onto card. Colour them in, then cut out the two circles.

2. Tape the two pictures to a pencil, so both pictures face out.

3. Spin the pencil between your hands. Can you see the fish in the bowl?

DID YOU KNOW? Optical illusions aren't just for fun - they help scientists to understand how the eyes and brain work together.

GERMINATION

Most plants grow from seeds. If you plant a seed in a moist, sunny place it will start to germinate (sprout).

The tough seed coat splits open (1). First, a little root grows downwards (2), so the plant can take in water. Then, a little green shoot begins to grow upwards towards the sky (3). The new plant spreads its leaves in the light (4).

BEANPROUT MAZE
Help the new shoot find its way through the soil towards the light.

You can plant bean sprouts yourself and see how fast they grow!

RISING AIR

When air is heated it rises. This is what makes a hot-air balloon rise. Air spirals upwards in currents called thermals where the sun heats the air near the ground.

This experiment uses the warm air from a radiator.

Colour the snakes, then cut them out to make a spiral. Gently pull the head and tail apart. Use scissors to make a hole in the nose, and attach a string. Hang the snakes over a radiator and watch them spin around!
