How To Draw Pets

Heads, paws and claws

Pets have many different types of heads, paws and claws. Studying and sketching the detailed features of a pet will help you with your final drawings.

Quick pencil sketches can help you to understand the structure of paws and claws.

Look for areas where hair should be darker and also for changes of texture.

The more you study a subject and your final drawing is the more accurate your drawing will become.

Always consider the lightness and add tone to the darker areas.

19

Using photos

Drawing from photographs of pets can help you develop both your drawing skills and your eye for detail.

Make a tracing of a photograph and line up all of squares in it.

Use this as a guide for drawing your pet. You can use the grid to help you get the proportions and line up all of squares in it. You can use the grid to help you get the proportions and line up all of squares in it.

Add a small shape for the ear.

Draw the shape of the tail with curved lines.

Sketch in the dog's body, adding its neck and legs.

How To Draw Fantasy Art

Drawing materials

Try using different types of drawing paper and materials. Experiment with charcoal, wax crayons and pastels. All pens, from felt-tips to ballpoints, will make interesting marks - or try drawing with pen and ink on wet paper.

Pencil is the most common drawing tool, and comes in a wide range of grades. Add an eraser to your pencil alongside with a sharpener to prevent blunting.

Watercolour is a great medium for creating atmospheric drawings. It is a mix of pigments and water, and can be used to create soft, blended effects.

Charcoal is very soft and malleable, and is great for creating bold, expressive drawings. It is a mix of pigments and water, and can be used to create soft, blended effects.

Sketching is a mix of drawing that uses only a few basic lines.

Character proportions

This page shows some of the more popular fantasy figures and their proportions compared to a normal human figure. On average, the length of a human head should fit eight times into its body length. When you draw a fantasy figure anything goes - so let your imagination go wild.

Draw these simple figures to help you choose a good position for your character. You can measure the position of a character by using character poses as a reference.

Man beasts

Combining a human figure with an animal's head can create a great hybrid monster. You can get inspiration by drawing from life models. Photos from sports movies and figure reference manuals are a good source too. Why not try putting a snake or insect's head on a human body - see what you can create!

Wolf is a classic choice for a man-beast. A wolf's head is a good reference for the shape of a wolf's head on a human body.

Dragon is a classic choice for a man-beast. A dragon's head is a good reference for the shape of a dragon's head on a human body.

Amazon warrior

This powerful female figure is a classic action fantasy character. She must look strong and powerful but retain her femininity and beauty.

Sketch cylinder shapes for each arm which join at the elbow.

Add the basic shape of the hand.

Draw in ovals for the head, neck, body and hips.

Draw a long curved line to start the position of the body.

Legs: add the curved lines of the upper and lower leg, indicating the knee joint.

Add the foot shape and direction.

Draw in the boots shapes.

Add the sword using straight lines.

Sketch in the position of the ears, nose and mouth.

Sketch in the shape of the hair mass.

Indicate the position and shape of the breasts.

Add the costume's draped cloth using simple lines.

Finish the detail on the sword. Small broken lines give the impression of shining metal.

Add shape, tone and details to the hair.

Draw in bracelets and armbands.

Add tone to the legs.

Draw in the top of the costume.

Complete the details on the boots.

Add shade to areas where the light would not reach.

Drawing hands

Practise sketching your own hands in different positions. This will help you draw expressive hands on your characters.

ON THE LEVEL

If you pour water into a series of tubes that are connected together, the water finds the same level in all the tubes.

All tubes connected to jar A should have water reaching the same level as in jar A. All tubes connected to jar B should have the same water level as jar B.

But some of these tubes have been drawn wrongly! Can you find which tubes contain water at the wrong level?

HINT: It will help if you colour all the tubes connected to jar A red, and all the tubes connected to jar B blue.

TRICKS WITH LIGHT

Optical illusions are tricks that fool the eye. They make you see something that's not really there.

Hold the book up in front of you and tilt it to the left or right. What happens to the curved lines in the drawing below?

Can you see a triangle here? There isn't one in the drawing!

Stare very hard at the picture below, then slowly move it towards and away from you. What happens?

Are the sides of the square straight or curved? Check with a ruler.

Are the horizontal lines level or slanting?

PUT THE FISH IN THE BOWL

1. Trace the fish and bowl onto card. Colour them in, then cut out the two circles.

2. Tape the two pictures to a pencil, so both pictures face out.

3. Spin the pencil between your hands. Can you see the fish in the bowl?

DID YOU KNOW? Optical illusions aren't just for fun - they help scientists to understand how the eyes and brain work together.

GERMINATION

Most plants grow from seeds. If you plant a seed in a moist, sunny place it will start to germinate (sprout).

The tough seed coat splits open (1). First, a little root grows downwards (2), so the plant can take in water. Then, a little green shoot begins to grow upwards towards the sky (3). The new plant spreads its leaves in the light (4).

You can plant bean sprouts yourself and see how fast they grow!

BEANPROUT MAZE
Help the new shoot find its way through the soil towards the light.

RISING AIR

When air is heated it rises. This is what makes a hot-air balloon rise. Air spirals upwards in currents called thermals where the sun heats the air near the ground.

This experiment uses the warm air from a radiator.

Colour the snakes, then cut them out to make a spiral. Gently pull the head and tail apart. Use scissors to make a hole in the nose, and attach a string. Hang the snakes over a radiator and watch them spin around!

TATTOOS

In the early nineteenth century over 90 per cent of all sailors sported a tattoo. They marked milestones in a sailor's voyage and served as reminders of the places they had been. But mainly, tattoos were believed to be good luck talismans.

- Keep a record of all your guessed co-ordinates on your spare grid. Use black for a 'miss' and red for a 'hit'.
- The first player to sink all his enemy's ships is the winner.

Art of Drawing Manga: Action and Movement

Creases and folds

Clothes fall into natural creases and folds when worn. Look at real people to see how fabric drapes and how it falls into creases. This will help you to dress your characters more realistically.

The way fabric is drawn can instantly get a sense of movement and action to a pose.

Fabric can flow or bill with movement or weight.

The weight and material of a fabric will affect the way it hangs on a character.

Practice drawing characters in different poses and different clothes to perfect your skills.

28

29

Action poses

Motion and balance are important aspects to consider in your drawing. Use basic construction lines to create a variety of poses. Then build the drawing up from there.

Sketching real people to see how their bodies move, whilst performing different actions, will help you create more realistic drawings. You can always hat the actions yourself if you're not sure.

Concentrate the curve of the centre line to give movement and action to your figure.

Use construction lines to make sure the balance of the fighting figure is accurate.

Use circles and oval shapes to position the joints.

Pay particular attention to the curve and direction of the eyes and lips.

Keep the drawing quite light and sketchy at first, until you are confident that the proportions are right.

Add shading to any areas where light would not reach.

30

31

Adding movement

Changing the style and position of the movement lines can create many different types of fighting movements.

Start by simplifying these simple shapes.

Draw an oval for the head and body, and smaller ovals for hands.

Use your construction lines as a guide, sketch simple tube shapes for the arms.

Complete the facial features.

Add shading and lines to create muscle definition.

By changing the position and style of the movement lines, you can change the action of the figure.

Curved, sweeping lines create the effect of an air-shaped punch.

Straight lines drawn in one direction give the impression of a strong impact.

Each movement line creates the effect that the hand is moving very fast.

32

33

Jumping fighter

This character has launched himself off the ground and is swinging a punch at the same time.

Draw two lines to indicate the position and angle of the shoulders and hips. Draw a line for the spine.

Sketch the positions of the facial features.

Indicate the joints with dots.

Using the construction lines as a guide, start drawing in the main shapes of the body.

Draw in tube shapes for the legs, note how the legs appear shorter as they angle towards or away from the viewer.

Add the outline of the fighter's clothing.

Draw in the fingers in a clenched fist shape.

Add more detail to the face and add the hair.

Add lines to indicate movement.

Shade in the bottom half of the leg. The angle of the leg causes it to be in shadow.

Finish the details of the boots.

Shade in any areas where light will not reach.

Remove any unwanted construction lines.

How Do I Hear?

Sound is vibrating air. When it reaches your ears it makes your eardrums vibrate. These vibrations send messages to your brain, which then makes sense of what kind of sound you are hearing.

Most of your ear is inside your head. The part of the ear you can see is like a funnel for sounds.

Why Do I Have Two Ears?
Having an ear on either side of your head helps you to work out the direction of sound better. It means you can hear better too.

What was the deadliest dinosaur?

Spinosaurus was the largest meat-eating dinosaur known to have existed. Unlike other dinosaurs, Spinosaurus must have been semi-aquatic (partly water-dwelling).

Spinosaurus's head and teeth were shaped like a crocodile's. Its broad feet and flat skin were ideal for paddling in water.

The deadliest dinosaur would have eaten sharks and crocodiles, as well as land animals.

Spinosaurus was 16.3 metres (53 feet) long. It was bigger than a Tyrannosaurus rex but was not as smart.
