Fire at the heart of all of it.
The flames give off when and burn are an echo
of energy from the sun which is long extinct forever.
Fire gives humankind access to the deepest nature of the earth.
The iron, tin, and metals of its formation.

...looks to the sun.
Fire at the heart of all of it.

When mixed with clouds of interstellar gas
and dust they form the building blocks of new stars.
Like our Sun. And new planets. Like Earth.

A world with a fiery heart.

Basenji

In the native Africa, the Basenji is known as 'the dog that doesn't bark'. While many dogs are often said to be 'sage to please', that just doesn't apply to this one. It is lively, imaginative and playful, but it does have a stubborn streak. The Basenji will usually learn what you want to teach it, but whether it will obey your commands depends entirely on its mood. That impertinent mind can be a problem, too, as anything you have going around is likely to be investigated by your Basenji – usually by means of chewing. All that said, the Basenji makes a lovely pet as it adores people and playtime.

Life Expectancy 12-15 years | Height 45-50cm | Trainability Learns quickly if it wants to | Grooming Weekly brushing | Exercise An occasional walk | Most likely to say I can get up there | Least likely to say No, I'm fine, you go off and leave me all alone...

Tibetan Mastiff

If you look like a giant teddy bear but this mighty mastiff is not the dog for everyone. While it has a gentle and loving nature, its sheer size can be a bit off-putting, and it is strong-willed. The Tibetan Mastiff sees itself as an equal, rather than a pet, and can be very stubborn. It is thought these amazing dogs lived in Tibet thousands of years ago and were used as guards (not many people would stand up to a 60kg dog) for monks, known as 'lamas'. This is where they developed their thick coat to cope with the harsh climate.

Life Expectancy 10-14 years | Height 60-70cm | Trainability Good for children | Grooming Needs brushing but doesn't shed much | Exercise Vigorous walks | Most likely to say I'll be on your side | Least likely to say I can get up there!

Shiba Inu

The resident of its dog breeds native to Japan, the Shiba Inu greets the world with quiet dignity. But it's like a little single warrior, moving quickly and nimbly. The Japanese have three words to describe this breed, harae (upright backbone), oyasoi (good nature) and akashi (alertness). It also tends to be possessive – like a nooky toddler, the Shiba Inu doesn't like to share and if it could spare, it's first word would be 'mine'. It's also a natural hunter, so if you let it off the lead while out on a walk, it will probably disappear in the direction of the nearest squirrel.

Life Expectancy 12-15 years | Height 35-40cm | Trainability It has a stubborn streak | Grooming Very little | Exercise Needs a good daily routine | Most likely to say I'm not all that smart | Least likely to say I'll be on your side

Parash Hound

This elegant hound was developed to hunt gazelle with pharaohs in ancient Egypt, more than 4,000 years ago. Despite its noble past, the Parash loves people and simply loves life. It's a natural clown – you can even teach a Parash to 'roll' and it's possibly the only breed that can blink – when it's happy or excited, its nose and ears will turn a deeper shade of pink. But as a hunting hound, it has a strong prey drive and is likely to chase anything it sees, so keep it on the lead at all times.

Life Expectancy 12-15 years | Height 50-60cm | Trainability Easy | Grooming Very little | Exercise Needs a lot of exercise | Most likely to say I'm not all that smart | Least likely to say I'll be on your side

Saluki

Praised by the travelling people of the Middle East, this ancient breed is thought to take its name from the Arabian city of Sals. To the Greeks, it was a noble dog indeed and they kept precise records of breeding and hunting prowess. They hunted hare, fox and gazelle from horseback, so their heads had to be fast of foot. There were once two different types of Saluki – short and mountain – but the two have merged into the modern breed. It has, however, retained its beauty and some of its speed, so be prepared to do a lot of jogging...

Life Expectancy 12-15 years | Height 60-70cm | Trainability Average | Grooming Weekly brushing | Exercise Vigorous walks | Most likely to say I'm not all that smart | Least likely to say I'll be on your side

Alaskan Malamute

This impressive breed is one of the oldest in the world and has changed very little, still resembling its wolf ancestors. It was used by the Mahomet people to pull sleds and hunt seals. It is a strong and imposing animal, but it isn't much use as a watchdog – Malamutes regard everyone they meet as friends. They rarely bark, but make a charming 'woo-woo' noise. They're intelligent too, which means they can easily get bored... and a bored Malamute is trouble to watch. They love to dig holes in the garden, or sniff across the kitchen counters for something tasty, so keep them busy!

Life Expectancy 10-12 years | Height 60-70cm | Trainability Good for children | Grooming Needs brushing | Exercise Lots | Most likely to say I'm not all that smart | Least likely to say I'll be on your side

Tibetan Spaniel

This little dog likes to climb! Almost cat-like, it will try to find the highest perch from which it can watch over everyone and everything. Resembling a small lion (a powerful symbol in Tibet), it was highly prized as a watchdog. This watchful quality has been bred into the Tibetan Spaniel for thousands of years and it takes its role very seriously – don't even think about farting and blaming it on someone else in its presence! But don't expect your dog to be happy on its own. Tibetan Spaniels like company and get bored quickly – left to themselves they are likely to bark.

Life Expectancy 12-15 years | Height 25cm | Trainability Learns quickly if it wants to | Grooming Weekly brushing | Exercise An occasional walk | Most likely to say I can get up there | Least likely to say No, I'm fine, you go off and leave me all alone...

Afghan Hound

With its slender, exotic face, long silky hair and lithe body, the Afghan Hound is surely the supermodel of the dog world. And as well as being one of the most beautiful breeds in the world, the Afghan is possibly the oldest. It comes from Afghanistan, where it was known as the Tazi, and was used to hunt dangerous animals, such as leopards. It was not only brave, but also extremely fast, capable of running at speed for many kilometres. Its independent nature means it does like attention, but on its own terms.

Life Expectancy 10-12 years | Height 60-66cm | Trainability This independent mind can be challenging | Grooming Lots of brushing | Exercise It needs plenty of room to move | Most likely to say Look how beautiful I am! | Least likely to say Give me a cuddle

Raising the Roof

SYMPHONY

The symphony has changed over the centuries, but it is essentially an extended piece of music for a large group of players. The word had even been the Greek, meaning 'sounding together'. It is often a composer's lifetime piece because the size and cost of the orchestra is hard to pull off.

A symphony is often in four movements, with no set number of tracks. There are five movements, which are the standard. In the past, it was common to have a sixth movement, which was often a scherzo or minuet. However, composers usually stick to the standard four or five movements.

LEARNING TIP
Listen to the music and think about the different instruments. Can you hear the strings, woodwinds, brass, and percussion? How do they sound together? Try to identify the different parts of the orchestra.

1800s
The first symphony was written by Joseph Haydn in 1760. It was a single movement in one part.

1776
The first symphony with four movements was written by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart in 1763.

1800s
The first symphony with five movements was written by Ludwig van Beethoven in 1800.

1872
The first symphony with a sixth movement was written by Johannes Brahms in 1872.

1748
The first symphony with a scherzo or minuet was written by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart in 1748.

Present
The first symphony with a sixth movement was written by Johannes Brahms in 1872.

Richard Wagner

1813-1883

To Listen or Not to Listen...
Can we separate opera from Wagner? Can we really understand the music without the story? Or is the music so powerful that it can stand on its own? Wagner was a pioneer in this regard, and his music has inspired generations of composers.

Wagner's Sound
Wagner's music is often described as 'music-drama'. It is a blend of music and story, where the music serves the drama and the drama serves the music. His music is powerful and emotional, and it has inspired generations of composers.

LISTEN!
Listen to Wagner's music and think about the different instruments. Can you hear the strings, woodwinds, brass, and percussion? How do they sound together? Try to identify the different parts of the orchestra.

George Gershwin

1898-1937

George Gershwin's Sound
Gershwin was a pioneer in the use of jazz in classical music. His music is a blend of jazz and classical, and it has inspired generations of composers.

Piano Addiction
Gershwin was a pianist and a composer. He was a pioneer in the use of jazz in classical music. His music is a blend of jazz and classical, and it has inspired generations of composers.

LISTEN!
Listen to Gershwin's music and think about the different instruments. Can you hear the strings, woodwinds, brass, and percussion? How do they sound together? Try to identify the different parts of the orchestra.

Hildegard of Bingen

1098-1179

Here's someone who was, in every sense, a visionary Hildegard of Bingen had visions of God and wrote them down as poems and music.

Hildegard's Sound
Her music is often monophonic - a single line, a tune on its own (mono means one, phonic means sound). This creates a sense of calm, perfect for a focused, intense contemplation of faith. Hildegard wrote mostly sacred plainchant (where people all sing the same line, with religious texts used for the words), intended for use in church. Her abbey consisted of 50 nuns who all had trained voices and would sing daily. It's believed a Benedictine nun at the time would sing for eight hours each day! With an in-house choir, then, an abbey provided an ideal testing ground for new music. Music becomes a form of prayer, and having everyone sing the same line creates a powerful symbol of togetherness through faith.

Learning by Ear
The Greeks were the first to use letters of the alphabet to represent different notes. Yet until the Middle Ages, almost all music was passed down the generations by mouth, instead of being written down. There was a lot to learn in the 600s, monks in churches are estimated to have memorised 80 hours of music, all by ear! By the 900s, it took around 10 years to teach a young chorister all the pieces they'd need to know for future services. And you think school is intense...

LISTEN!
A Feather on the Breath of God sung by Gothic Voices
Hildegard was a Bala-leaven name even in musical circles, until early music became widely performed and recorded from the 1970s onwards. One of the standards in this album, released in 1985.

She sent me a letter!
And a botany book to me!
I'm scheduling that next tour!
