YOUR SAFE PLACE

Draw or stick a picture of somewhere you feel completely safe and happy.

Your safe place could be somewhere you've seen or been to, heard about, read about or dreamt about. A special, safe place where everything feels peaceful, relaxed and wonderful.

TAKE A BREATH!

Try this breathing exercise to help you relax:

STEP 1

Make sure you are sitting comfortably in a quiet and safe place. When you feel ready, close your eyes. Notice your breathing. Think about how it feels breathing in and breathing out. Try to breathe in through your nose and out through your mouth.

STEP 2

Place your hand on your tummy and focus on the feeling of your stomach rising and falling with each breath. When you breathe in, quietly say 'in' to yourself, and when you breathe out, quietly say 'out' to yourself.

STEP 3

Concentrate on nothing but your breathing and try to let go of any other thoughts you may have.

When you've had lots of practice at the breathing exercise, see if you can think about a happy memory at the same time. This way, your happy memory will take up all the space in your brain, and there won't be any room for the worries.

Perspective

If you look at any object from different viewpoints, you will see that the part that is closest to you looks larger and the part furthest away from you looks smaller. Drawing in perspective is a way of creating a feeling of space - of showing three dimensions on a flat surface.

It may help you with perspective if you imagine your figure (the horse) as being like this.

The vanishing point (VP) is the point in space where the parallel lines appear to meet. The position of the vanishing point depends on the viewer's eye level. Sometimes a line can help you give your drawing added drama.

Two-point perspective drawing: Two-point perspective means two vanishing points, one for the line running along the floor and one on the opposite wall for the line running across the floor. This gives a more realistic three-dimensional effect.

Low eye level from the subject

Normal eye level

Rats

Animals like rats make great cartoon characters. You can give them personalities and expressions, just as you can with your cartoon people.

Start by drawing the skeleton in simple shapes.

Sketch in a snout for the head, the ears, the whiskers, the tail, and the legs.

Add a line for the tail.

Use lines for the whiskers with dots to indicate joints.

Sketch in the ears and add some simple shading.

Add another line to the tail.

Sketch in the legs and feet, making sure that the feet are in a good position.

Bulldog

The bulldog is a classic cartoon character. Its face is perfect for a grumpy expression, which instantly gives it a character all of its own.

Add a line for the snout.

Sketch in the ears and add some simple shading.

Add another line to the tail.

Sketch in the legs and feet, making sure that the feet are in a good position.

Figure work

Adding clothes to a figure can help to define the character. This figure is dressed as a Victorian maid.

Start by sketching these simple shapes for the figure.

Draw an oval for the head.

Indicate the joints with dots.

Draw tube shapes for the arms, using your construction lines as a guide.

Draw two shapes for the feet.

Position the facial features as before.

Inside the hand shape, draw a circle and one finger going into the mouth.

Join the body and hips into one large oval.

Add a small circle for the position of the big toe. This will help you draw the shoes.

Make the legs into tube shapes.

Sketch an oval for the head.

Add ovals for the body and hips.

Draw straight lines to connect the ovals and show the positions of the limbs.

Draw two shapes for the feet.

Two parallel lines show the soles of the shoes.

Try drawing these hand gestures.

Finish the head by adding the hair and eyelashes. Shade above the eyes and inside the ear.

Sketch in the hair and add the cap.

Draw the shape of the clothes going around the body.

Sketch in the dress using curved lines.

Add details such as cuffs, buttons and a collar.

The hem of the dress covers part of the feet.

Add lines to the apron and at the bottom of the dress to show folds in the material.

Add shading to areas like this where light wouldn't reach.
